

SOMMERS CASE PROSECUTOR TO SEE BONNER

VANCOUVER (CP)—City Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said today he still intends seeing Attorney-General Robert Bonner about the Sommers bribery conspiracy case.

The attorney-general last week said he could see no reason why Mr. McMorran would have to confer with him on the case, and that it was up to the city prosecutor's office to proceed without further advice.

However, Mr. McMorran said he will see Mr. Bonner about the case, "and he'll know why when I see him."

Asked when he would see attorney-general Mr. McMorran replied: "When I intend to see him is nobody's business but mine and his."

Fleming Warns U.S. On Tariff Policies

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Canadian Finance Minister Donald Fleming today called on the United States government to take serious account of the heavy imbalance of trade between the two countries.

"We should like to see the United States administration and Congress take serious account of the heavy imbalance of the trade between these two countries and also of the way in which United States tariff policies are excluding Canadian finished products from the U.S. market," Fleming said.

In an address which he delivered as being of "utmost frankness"—to the annual meeting of the Investment Bankers Association of America, Fleming argued that the United States should take account of the heavy imbalance of trade between the two countries.

13-18 Age Group Worst Offenders

Immediate establishment of a unified Greater Victoria family and juvenile court was called for today by a special committee investigating the juvenile delinquency problem.

The recommendation was one of a number made after a 10-month study by the juvenile delinquency committee of the Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council.

The report, submitted to the committee last week, said the court should be based in the Victoria area, be modelled after the successful Vancouver juvenile court, and have jurisdiction over the entire Greater Victoria area.

The committee found that the present system of having separate courts for family and juvenile cases was inefficient and costly.

Many Changes Said 'Long Overdue'

There seems little doubt, the report said, that many changes in the various methods of dealing with the problems of young people are long overdue.

The committee stressed the need for more and better trained personnel to deal with delinquents.

It is unlikely that any great change for the better can be expected until the community in general recognizes the urgent need for improved and more social behavior agencies or better help to these delinquents.

Rocket Down? Russians Mum

FLEMING, Sask. (CP)—An immigrant farmer said today a chunk of metal bearing Russian lettering crashed into his farm here Sunday night with "a whistle like a freight train."

(From Times News Services)

LONDON.—The Soviet communiqué on the Sputniks made no mention tonight of the carrier rocket for the first time since the first satellite was launched Oct. 4. Failure to mention the rocket lent new currency to reports from western scientists that the rocket already had come down.

The mystery of the sputtering Sputnik rocket was deepened earlier today when a Moscow planetary official insisted the rocket still was aloft and orbiting the earth.

His statement came after numerous western scientific sources had written off the rocket. Reports of flaming space objects had come from points as far distant as California and Germany.

Dr. A. C. B. Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said Sunday night it "would be stretching all known theories to the breaking point" to think the rocket was still aloft.

SASKATCHEWAN SIGHTING

A "ball of fire" reported seen over southern Saskatchewan brought reports that the rocket had fallen there. Director John Hodges of the Regina Astronomical Society said the object had the characteristics of a meteor, but he did not rule out the possibility that it was the rocket or a fragment of it.

In Montana, some persons reported a terrific explosion and a green ball of fire and a white flash so bright it blinded motorists momentarily in the northern and eastern sections of the state.

The U.S. Army reported from Fairbanks, Alaska, that a "brightly glowing object plunged to earth Saturday on the Fort Greely Reservation 100 miles southeast of there."

Near Hamburg, West Germany, farmers said a glowing

Man Who 'Tripped' Tiger-Cat Still Unidentified Says CRU

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Rugby Union can't positively identify the man who tripped Hamilton Tiger-Cat Bibbes Bawel in Saturday's Grey Cup final won by Hamilton over Winnipeg, 32-7, and "no action can be taken," CRU president Don Downey said in an interview today.

"It was a very unfortunate incident and the CRU is perturbed about it, but there is nothing we can do about it, now," he added.

"We can't lay charges. Sure some people have told us he is a scoundrel, but we can't positively identify the man."

Eisenhower Back at Desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower visited his office today for the first time since his cerebral attack a week ago. He presided at the opening of an afternoon cabinet meeting.

Immediately after a motor trip from his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., where he spent the weekend, the recuperating president went to his office, dictated a memorandum to his secretary, Ann Whitman, and made known his intention to sit in on the cabinet session.

Press Secretary James Hagerty, who earlier told reporters that White House physician Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder reported Eisenhower's progress "continues to be excellent," said the president did not intend to stay through the full meeting.

After dictating the memorandum, Hagerty said, Eisenhower went to the White House living quarters for lunch and a short nap.

Hagerty did not disclose the agenda of the cabinet meeting but Vice President Richard Nixon—who had been prepared to substitute as chairman—told reporters Friday the administration's agriculture and welfare budgets and legislative programs would be discussed.

VANCOUVER — Several reports of a fireball travelling north to south over British Columbia were received at the Sea Island air force base here Sunday.

The identical reports came from members of the ground observer corps in Alaska and at mile 1,127 on the Alaska Highway.

Hurricane Nina Batters Hawaii Routing 1,100

HONOLULU (AP) — Some 1,100 persons were evacuated from the low-lying coastal areas of Kauai today as gale winds of up to 90 miles an hour from Hurricane Nina battered that northernmost of the Hawaiian Islands.

Those evacuated, mostly fishermen and cane field workers living near mouths of swollen rivers, were moved to public schools.

Rivers flooded the towns of Hanalei and Hanalei, but there was only slight damage and no casualties were reported.

Heavy rains and strong winds continued to batter the island, 55 miles northwest of Oahu, the site of Honolulu.

Two small rivers near Hanalei, the village that took the brunt of a tidal wave last night, blocked roads as they overflowed. Phone service to the island capital of Lihue was disrupted shortly after midnight.

REOPEN HARBOR
Honolulu harbor was reopened at 5 p.m. Sunday after being closed all day.

Airlines resumed regular flights to the continental United States. Inter-island airmail that had been grounded resumed flights with added scheduled to take care of stranded passengers.

The major hotels were in no danger and surf board riders were out throughout Sunday for some of the best rides of the year.

Nina is the 14th Pacific storm this year. It is called a hurricane while those moving that far west of the International date line are labelled typhoons because of the Asian derivation of the word for such a storm. They are named for women.

Weather bureaus at San Francisco and Honolulu both said they have no records of a hurricane hitting the Hawaiian Islands in the past.

DELINQUENT FIGURE SOARS
OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian courts last year found 8,238 children under 15 delinquent, compared to 6,542 the year previous, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The number of children charged with delinquency and brought before the courts rose 25-30% from 1956.

HAREM-SCAREM CAREER PROPOSED TO ELEANOR

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — An Arab sheik with 39 wives would like to marry Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, according to her son-in-law.

Roosevelt told of the sheik's marriage proposal while speaking Sunday at a state of Israel bond rally.

A sheik formally requested to see him to make the offer, he said, while he was touring the Mid-East six weeks ago.

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials, "I would have to see him if the state of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

FLEMING

Fleming said she received a letter from the United States.

In a disquieting degree Canada has placed her trailing eggs in the basket, Fleming said.

The Canadian economy has to a dangerous degree, been made vulnerable to sudden changes in the economic climate of the United States.

A second weakness, he said, was Canada's heavy imbalance in commodity trade. Last year Canada purchased $4,167 million worth of goods from the United States but sent back only $2,819 million.

This he said had brought a chronic condition of imbalance of trading with the selling advantage resting always with the United States.

Fleming said Canadian farmers had been hurt and were deeply disturbed at United States restrictions on dairy imports.

Until a short time ago the United States restricted imports of our barley, malt and oats," he added.

"Now we are faced with the threat of increased tariffs against our zinc and lead."

"Canadians cannot fail to be deeply disturbed at this prospect," Fleming said.

Crowds Jam New Bridge

Point Ellice Span Stands Traffic Test Following Colorful Saturday Ceremony

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Hundreds of cars travelled back and forth over the new Point Ellice Bridge during the weekend in proof of its strength and usefulness to the city.

The heavy traffic started immediately following the colorful opening ceremonies Saturday afternoon where a joyful parade of bands, high-stepping majorettes and Boy Scouts marched over the bridge followed by civic leaders, two busloads of pioneer citizens, hordes of cyclists and hundreds of men, women and children on foot.

Behind came an unbroken line of cars stretching as far as Government Street, their drivers and passengers eager to be among the first over. Thus in the first hours of its life the bridge carried a top capacity load, demonstrating (as Mayor Percy Scourrah had said) that it had been "well and truly built" and safeguarded from the tragedy which befell its predecessor in 1896.

Dense crowds cheered as a white ribbon across the entrance was snipped by Charlie Bannfield, long honored as unofficial mayor of Victoria West, and Mayor Scourrah unveiled a plaque screwed into one of the stone columns.

It was a gala occasion for Victoria with kilted pipers marching to the skirl of "Scotland the Brave," followed by Victoria Girls' Drill Team, Victoria Majorettes, Victoria Eagles' Band, the Eaglettes Drill Team and the Greater Victoria Schools' Pipe Band conducted by Pipe Major Ian Duncan.

Ships' Sirens, Fireboat Hoses in Act

Ships' sirens blared triumphantly after Mayor Scourrah had declared the bridge open and fireboats below threw up great columns of water which criss-crossed in mid-air.

"I never thought I should live to see another bridge built and opened," said 95-year-old Herbert Kent, who sat bareheaded in a cold wind during the ceremonies. "It is certainly a feather in Percy Scourrah's cap."

Mr. Kent was one of many pioneers who took part in rescue work when the old Point Ellice Bridge collapsed in 1896. Saanich patriarch Frank Hobbs, also 95, looked back over the 61 years separating the two bridges and said: "So much has happened in that time, I feel as if I belong to two worlds."

Neighboring Reeves Praise Scourrah

Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt had been "right behind" it from the first and Reeve H. Rupert Brown of Central Saanich described it as a "monument" of his energy and foresight.

George Farmer, of Victoria Construction, and Dave McLaughlin of Dominion Bridge formally turned over the new bridge to the city.

Mayor Scourrah said the total cost with repairs to the piers amounted to $682,934, of which the city has to pay some $419,928. He added:

"This money has come from the sale of tax-sale lands, and we still have enough money in our fund account to pay for a new fireboat, which is so badly needed."

Rev. R. E. H. James, DD, of Metropolitan United Church, representing the Greater Victoria Board of Commerce, said the bridge was a "monument" of his energy and foresight.

The Royal Canadian Navy was represented by Rear Admiral S. Rayner, flag officer, Pacific Command, and Commodore P. D. Budge, commanding officer of HMCS Naden.

Uranium Still Tops, British Tell Mission

EDINBURGH (BUP)—Members of the Canadian trade mission, who now have toured the vast centres of British nuclear research at Harwell and Calder Hall, have been given important reassurances on the future of the Canadian uranium industry.

At both centres, leading scientists expressed frank surprise over the fears which recently have swept the stock exchanges—particularly in Canada—on the score that uranium and the fusion process might be supplanted shortly by the non-uranium fusion process.

At Harwell, one of the top researchers summed up the situation by saying: "It all boils down to this—do not sell your uranium shares."

"What may happen to affect uranium's usefulness is not yet in the foreseeable future. If and when it does happen, uranium still will have a permanent role to play."

BIGGEST TEA PARTY

Survivors of 1896 Crash At Vic West Celebration

Victoria West had its biggest tea party Saturday after the opening of new Point Ellice bridge.

And among the 300 who crowded into the community hall on Catherine street were the few survivors of the old bridge disaster of 1896.

Completion of the symmetrical new structure was for them like the filling of an anxious gap, now satisfied that the tragedy of 61 years ago can never be repeated with today's capable engineering.

They balanced teacups on knees, ate pieces of "bridge cake" and talked. Some met others for the first time.

Mrs. David Blythe, 137 Rockland, now 83 years old, lives the new bridge is a lot better than the old one.

"This is a very beautiful bridge," she said. Her memory is still sharp on the events of that fateful May day, however, perhaps because she recorded it in the impression of a 22-year-old girl barely settled here from England.

"I wrote a full account of it for the Family Herald and Weekly Star in Montreal," Mrs. Blythe smiled. "That's a long way from Victoria and I guess they were not interested in what was going on 3,000 miles away."

"They returned it, thanked me, but they had no use for my contribution."

"So I just lifted the lid on the kitchen stove and dropped it in. That was my first and last contribution. Maybe if I'd saved it, it would have been worth something today."

Ald. Millard Mooney, public works chairman, came along with the huge white ribbon saved from the opening ceremony.

FAMED RESIDENCE The White House in Washington, home of U.S. presidents since 1800, was originally called the "President's Palace."

"Would you like a piece of bridge ribbon?" he asked, and snipped off two inches with a pair of scissors.

Mrs. Blythe carefully dropped it in her purse.

The aged woman, who was accompanied to the celebration by her daughter, Mrs. E. Farmer, 480 Beach, dredged up some more memories.

"We were living near the bridge and we heard the crack. We helped revive some of the people."

"It was a wonderful rescue. The people were very brave. Then she added, "It really shouldn't have happened. It was a very sad ending for a holiday."

At Sunday's banquet, he pledged New Zealand's assistance to Japan in trade while at the same time promising full employment at home.

He has no fears of a narrow majority preventing his forming a government, Nash said. There would be a special session of Parliament, probably early in January, to implement Labor's income tax rebate election proposals.

Nash, 56-year-old veteran politician, ended eight years of rule by the National party. The results indicate that labor will have a majority of two

'POLICE STATE' LAWYER SAYS

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan has written a second letter to Justice Minister Fulton, complaining about the disposal of a case Nov. 11 by a Supreme Court of Canada panel of which Mr. Justice Charles Locke was a member.

The letter said until the court's decision is reversed "the 5,500,000 people of this province will be living in a police state" where "inadequate machinery exists to control irregularities of abuse of power by the police or magistrates."

The Supreme Court panel rejected an application by Bruce County farmer William Lyle Kennedy for leave to appeal a vagrancy conviction, replied to an earlier letter, dated Nov. 23.

Native Flowers Of B.C. Menaced

A warning that unless the public becomes aware of the need to protect B.C.'s native flora, many species of wild flowers will become extinct, was made by Dr. Clifford Carl, director of Provincial Museum, Saturday.

Dr. Carl was speaking at the opening of Emily Sartain's exhibition of wild flower paintings in the board room of the Dominion Hotel. The exhibition is open to the public until Dec. 8.

Dr. Carl said many species of wild flowers are already rare due to urban development and indiscriminate picking. Conservation of wild flowers, he added, could only be achieved through an educational program which would make people aware of the value of the province's native flora.

Money and Politics

AS MR. A. H. CAMERON, A leading expert of Toronto, writes in The Financial Post, it is a dangerous thing to play politics with the value of a nation's money. "The integrity of the currency," he says, "is too important to be even the accidental casualty of pre-election discussion or imaginative reporting."

Yet playing politics with the currency has been one of our politicians' favorite sports—especially in British Columbia—and a deal of nonsense on the same subject has appeared in some sections of the press.

Unfortunately the end of this kind of thing is not in sight. It is really too bad, though, when a man of Mr. Fulton's intelligence and reputation confounds the existing confusion in the public mind. The charitable explanation is that Mr. Fulton is confused himself, his expert knowledge lying in the field of law, not economics.

Whatever the reason, Mr. Fulton says the unemployment in Canada is serious and will grow worse mainly because of the former Government's so-called "tight-money" policy. (A few days before that Mr. Diefenbaker was denouncing those who talked in the gloomy terms of his colleague, and a few days later Mr. Fleming said there was no unemployment emergency in Canada.)

Apart from this disagreement within the cabinet on the subject of unemployment, the public is entitled to ask Mr. Fulton why, if tight money is the cause of our troubles, it was not loosened long ago by a Government which has been in office since midsummer?

Asked that obvious question, Mr. Fulton replies that the Governor of the Bank of Canada (always the villain of the piece) "enjoys a considerable amount of autonomy."

The difficulty, then, is that the Government, desperately trying to loosen money, is unable to break down the wrong-headed objections of Mr. Coyne. That dictatorial banker, it appears, is successfully defying the elected representatives of the people, apparently just for the fun of making himself unpopular.

By this remarkable discovery Mr. Fulton traps himself in a queer piece of logic. For if Mr. Coyne is to blame for tight money what right has the present Government to blame its predecessor for this evil? According to Mr. Fulton's version, the old Government must have been as helpless as its successor against the all-powerful Bank of Canada.

But strangely enough, if money is now being loosened somewhat, no credit for this improvement is to be given to the Bank. It all belongs to the present Government.

Mr. Fulton is taking no chances, however. If things go wrong, the Bank can still be blamed because it retains its "considerable amount of autonomy." The old Government has gone long since and belongs to the ages, not to the next election campaign, but the Bank remains as a handy whipping-boy in case of need.

Mr. Fulton's attempt to play politics with the money system was quickly questioned in Parliament as soon as he returned from the carefree hustings of British Columbia to the responsible atmosphere of the treasury benches.

Asked how the Government was dealing with the Bank, Mr. Fulton resorted to an obscure and ponderous statement, the kind of reply written with contrived vagueness by departmental officials for cabinet ministers in trouble.

Clearly Mr. Fulton is prepared to condemn the Bank on the political platform but is not ready to argue such issues in the House of Commons. He is too politically wise for that. Any Government which undertook to argue that the non-partisan experts of the Bank should be coerced and compelled to do the popular thing for the Government's political benefit would have a fight on its hands immediately. The present Government is not prepared for such a fight, not yet, anyway.

The Winnipeg Free Press suggests that the Government will turn to the Bank later, if unemployment grows more serious, and is keeping that ultimate weapon ready for use when necessary.

It is to be hoped that this judgment of the Government's strategy is false. For it will do the nation no good—and in the end it will do the Government no good even on the lowest level of political calculation. If the central banking system is to be plunged into partisan politics.

Here, as in other free Western countries, the whole purpose of central banking legislation is to keep the highly technical business of money management out of partisan politics. Unhappily that wholesome rule has been infringed somewhat in Canada of late but we trust Mr. Diefenbaker will call a halt to the recent activities of colleagues like Mr. Fulton.

Why Are They Tolerated?

A NEWS ITEM A FEW DAYS ago telling of the conference of some 60 American hoodlums in a New York State country house raised many public enquiries as to why something could not be done to curb the activities of such underworld characters.

All, apparently, are known to have committed crimes of greater or less gravity, all are known to be leaders in various illegal rackets in New York and other cities—racketing "protection" schemes for industries and small businesses, sex and narcotics syndicates, domination of labor unions and other nefarious pursuits. Why, asks the layman, do these criminals continue to go free?

The answer, it seems, lies in the difficulty of obtaining evidence and winning convictions in court. The leaders of narcotics and other chains are usually far from the battle front. Their contacts with the actual crime are through a series of underlings. Meanwhile they conduct legitimate businesses of various kinds to keep up their other undertakings.

The annual toll of such gangsters throughout the United States is

The Boss Says He Is Boss

MR. KHRUSHCHEV has warned this year's graduating class at Soviet military academy that they should not allow themselves to forget that the Communist Party is the head of the military force. This is back in the tradition of the speeches Josef Stalin used to make on similar occasions. The sentiment had been somewhat soft-pedaled in recent years.

There is something a little ironic in Mr. Khrushchev's putting into words what he made so plain in practice a short time ago. When he abruptly engineered the ouster of Russia's most famous and popular marshal and thereby demonstrated the power of the Party over the Red Army, he was telling every Soviet officer cadet in every Soviet academy just what his place was going to be in the political scheme of things.

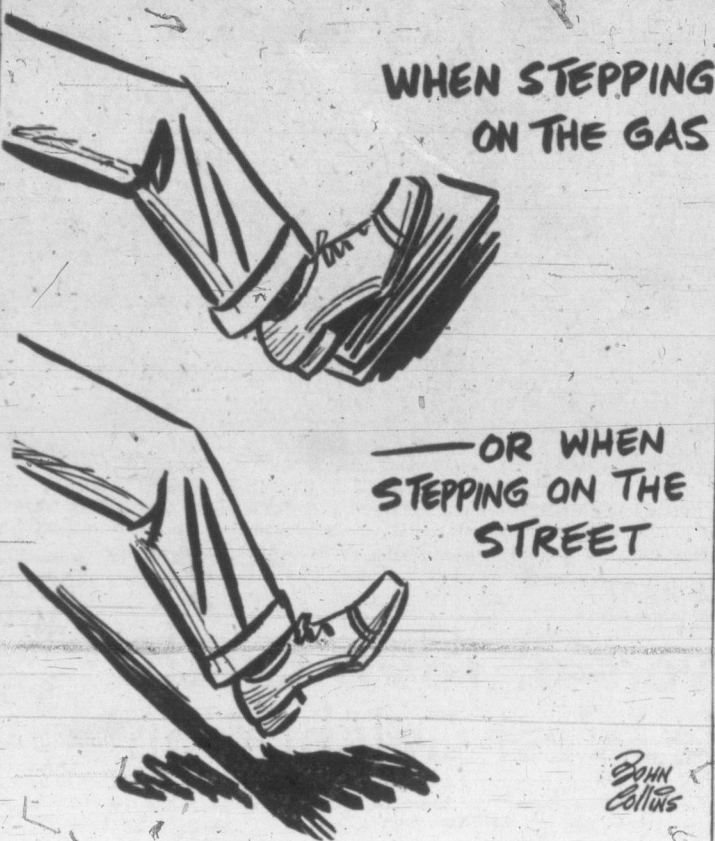

To follow this up with a speech may seem superfluous to Western observers. But the nature of Soviet politics is such that it might be just as well to get the idea on the record. Many of this year's officer graduates, later in their careers, may be in a position to look back and laugh at the time when a civilian ventured to claim command over the forces. Few insurance companies would care to hazard much on the proposition that Mr. Khrushchev's words will prove to be more than a footnote in the swiftly changing record of the times.

The young graduates are at the start of their careers. A Soviet political leader never knows when he is one day away from the end of his. Mr. Khrushchev's words may well apply to today, but he would be extremely optimistic were he to put them in the future tense.

MY WORD!

By B. A. TOBIN

What I Mean Is...

LANGUAGE purists are becoming alarmed these days. They see so many threats to correct English that they wonder if the language can survive them. Almost every sample of written and spoken English contains its own termite-like attack on our speech; newspapers, comic strips, the language of the man in the street and of the woman in the living room all whittle away at what is known as correct usage. Just how much damage and abuse can a language sustain before it deteriorates beyond recognition?

It is realized, of course, that a language must change or it will die. We do not speak the English of Chaucer or of Shakespeare, or even of Queen Victoria. A living language is one that adapts itself to new needs and new times. But it must retain certain basic rules of construction and grammar around which the new words and terms may be gathered.

Quite apart from all the problems of usage which are arising today—with verbs being formed hocus-bolus from nouns, the subjunctive tending to disappear entirely, prepositions being sprayed indiscriminately through sentences, and so on—there is a new form of attack which has not received so much attention. With so many newcomers to our country, most of them experiencing their first introduction to English, it is more important than ever that our language should mean what it says. Yet I play the immigrant today who must grapple with a language that contradicts itself, slips from his grasp just as he thinks he has mastered a portion of it, and confuses not only the beginner but the native-born user.

Stop and Go

What, for instance, is a foreigner in our streets to think of that now common sign, "Bus Stop—No Stopping"? No matter how he thumbs through his handy pocket dictionary he will obtain little help. He can conclude only that here is a stop where nothing stops, and he will wonder dumbly to some other corner hoping for better luck.

Or consider the new Canadian who wants to buy a glass of beer. He will search through the streets for a long time—indeed, forever—before he finds a sign that says he can buy a drink. How is he to know what the sign will explain to him—that when he sees a window sign with the sign "Open," he will be able to go in? If the premises are not closed, and purchase a glass of beer?

If he is with his wife or girl friend, however, even this will not be sufficient. He must search for another magic indicator: "Ladies with Escorts." These words, despite what the dictionary may tell him, mean that the couple may go in and have a drink.

He must learn, perhaps by sheer trial and error, that "Gentlemen" or "Ladies" over one door may mean an entirely different thing from "Gentlemen" or "Ladies" over some other door. The dictionary cannot help him. He is in unknown country and without a map.

Modern life is full of such pitfalls. But even having mastered these problems the newcomer will still be puzzled. He will quickly find that in reality we have two languages—the one we should use and the one we do use. He will suspect that most people know the correct grammar for a particular situation but that they do not choose to use it. Why?

Perhaps they feel that the ungrammatical term has more force and emphasis, perhaps they've just fallen into the habit, perhaps they're afraid they will be ridiculed as a snob or an egghead if they speak their language properly.

Many Choices

Whatever the reason, the newcomer will have a choice. He can say "I will speak like he does," or "I will speak as he does," and few persons will challenge him. He can say, "If I knew you were waiting I would of hurried," or "If I'd known you were waiting I should have hurried."

He has many such choices as to how he will frame his thoughts. And his only danger is that if he chooses the correct form too often he will be taken for a foreigner.

No doubt it has always been like this. Perhaps Shakespeare worried about the encroachments on the Queen's English—or perhaps he seized eagerly on them, used them and added a few of his own.

A language must be a living one if it is to survive, and life means change. But there can be changes that injure as well as those that improve. And any change that restricts flexibility, muddles meanings, reduces color or tends to monotony is a change to be avoided.

One of the most desperate challenges to the language in this century beyond doubt is the growth of the jargon of initials. Nato, Unesco, Shafte, Unrra and other collections of letters are gradually losing all but the first capital; they long ago lost the periods which showed they were only initials.

Now they are becoming words—ugly, semantically synthetic and a horrible portent of what the language of the future may be like. Imagine one of Wordsworth's sonnets filled with such alphabetical gibberish. It would be enough to make a reader wish he could get to go some place else.

As Our Readers See It

Amalgamation Frustration

Your correspondent, Mr. Harold Todd, states, "that the chance to take 'politics' out of the whole amalgamation issue seems to have been lost by not asking the people if they are in favor of an investigation or survey into the matter."

While I agree with Mr. Todd's suggestion, surely he is aware of the fact that the present reeve attempted some time ago, to put this question before the people of Saanich. It was solidly voted down by the "old guard." One can well understand the reeve's frustration and the utter uselessness of attempting to put another motion before the present council.

Now the "old guard" want to make it the main issue, thinking of course, that the voters will forget all other matters such as the $10,000 loss the taxpayers took over the municipal hall addition by their unbusinesslike methods.

The "old guard" by opposing the reeve's sensible motion have shown they are unfit to represent the taxpayers of Saanich:

Creation

A report issued by the American National Science Foundation on recent scientific progress on filterable viruses, gives credence to the thought that scientists in the laboratory may, at some future date synthesize reproducing things, or actually create life itself.

In some respects this seems similar to the idea expressed by St. Augustine in the fourth century—that the Creator made use of natural, evolutionary, original causes in the production of man's body.

But it goes much farther and suggests that scientists may be able to dispense with the Creator altogether.

Yet apart from the Bible's declaration "In the beginning God created..." the scientists cannot even determine how life started; and the material they study is already living.

Costs and Unemployment

Unemployment figures are high but, as Mr. Diefenbaker so truly informs us, more people are employed now than this time a year ago. This is what it is important to remember.

If labor chooses and prefers to strike every year and thus price our most valuable natural resources—lumber and fish—out of the markets of Europe and England, then it must be prepared to take the consequences which are inevitable unemployment.

If workers would use their "brains" and reason matters out for themselves instead of always listening to their union "bosses" who incite them to strike every year they would be much better off in the long run, now that wages are adequate for living expenses, as they most certainly are.

Sooner or later labor will be compelled to accept the old maxim: "What goes up must come down," as the economy of the country cannot survive this spiral of higher and higher wages and costs. No government could arrange full employment if wages are to go higher every year. Workers should ask themselves: What use are high wages when there is no employment?

Actually unemployment totals cannot be accurate and I cite the following two examples to prove it.

A few years ago I was drawing insurance. Every week I saw a young woman whom I knew. She had earned a high salary while working for the Telephone Company. She was then married and pregnant, so therefore unable to work, but was eligible to draw insurance and thus appeared in the unemployment totals.

Another case was of a B.C. Electric motorman. He had just been retired and was on company pension. However, he was entitled to his insurance so therefore was in the records as "unemployed." No doubt there are thousands of cases like this all across Canada which swell the unemployment totals yet are unemployed and not needing work.

Interesting and Instructive

Your article on growing up mentally by Dr. Walter Alvarez of Mayo Clinic was both interesting and instructive.

As he says the Darwinian theory of evolution is now accepted by most thinking people, also the law of genetics, as anyone who has had much to do with animals, either four or two-legged, knows there is a wide difference in the rate of intelligence among them. The present rate of development in both science and physics is indeed a long way from the old style witch hunts.

Let us hope that he and the other devoted scientists will finally find a cure for the horrible scourge of cancer, even if they, like Dr. Curie and his devoted wife, sacrifice themselves in this cause. Dr. Alvarez's articles are, I think, read by many who like myself have, through the years come to a philosophical acceptance of the facts of life.

As Art Linkletter says people are funny, sometimes; comical, sometimes; and are undoubtedly the most interesting study in the world.

CHARLES LACEY.

Blames Mr. Howe

In your editorial in the Times of Nov. 23 you seemed a little upset that the Dominion government had decided to have an inquiry into the natural gas project.

Perhaps you did not realize that the issue was one of the factors that put the Liberal party out of power. Along with that question was the Suez Canal affair; and when two men made a large fortune out of pipeline bonds, it was also too much for the people of Canada.

I have heard a couple of times men like the former finance minister blaming themselves for the defeat of the party. They had nothing to do with it. Mr. C. D. Howe wrecked the Liberal party. Under Mr. Mackenzie King he did good work, because he was kept in his place. But afterwards he ran the party out of office.

The Liberal party, like any other party, is only as good as its members. Men like Sir Wilfrid Laurier, E. C. Carson, E. G. Winch, Chief Justice Sloan, Ralph Chetwynd and their like can help any party. The other kind can wreck them.

I do not belong to any political party but have known many members of all parties, and have found good and bad in them all.

Should Eisenhower Resign?

WHEN I believe I am not capable, I will not be there, and that is all there is to it.

The speaker, of course, was President Eisenhower, and the occasion was a press conference a year and a half ago. The statement is worth recalling in the light of the President's latest misfortune. As far as any serious and permanent impairment of the President's health is concerned, the meaning is clear. In that case, the President will take advantage of the constitutional provision permitting him to resign and hand over his "powers and duties" to the Vice-President.

For the President is of course aware that the chief of state of these days cannot be a permanent semi-invalid.

But if—as everyone hopes, and as now seems far more likely—the President's stroke is mild and he recovers fairly rapidly, there will still remain a question in some minds, and quite possibly in the President's own, about what he ought to do. It is always painful to speak frankly about the physical misfortune of a well-loved human being. But in some circumstances it is better to say what is.

The President is approaching seventy. He has suffered three diseases in the last two and a half years, all extremely serious, all capable of recurring.

level, there is one obvious difference between the situation then and now. In 1953, Dwight D. Eisenhower represented the Republican Party's major hope of holding the White House in 1960. Now, Vice-President Nixon represents the Republican Party's major hope of holding the White House in 1960.

Nixon's chances will obviously be enormously enhanced if he is then the incumbent President, with a solid record of achievement behind him.

This political element in the equation is, as a practical matter, an important one. But there are also far more important differences between 1953 and 1960.

In the weeks that followed the President's heart attack, the government was run by an informal regency. But the regency's task was not an impossible difficult one. For in those days, the smiles of Geneva lingered on and there was an eye of the hurricane calm in the international storm. The policies of the government had already been established, and it was only necessary to continue to do what was already being done.

State of Flux

The President's third illness, by contrast, has occurred at a moment of major crisis, when the basic foreign and defense policies of the government are in a state of flux.

The crisis moreover, is not a temporary one, to be rather quickly resolved, like the Suez crisis of last year. It is an underlying crisis, caused by the imbalance in the world power balance of which the Sputniks have served as a symbol. According to the authoritative Gaither Report, the balance cannot be restored, and the crisis abated, until 1960 at the earliest.

In the three hard years that loom ahead, finally, even assuming a rapid recovery from his stroke, the President must be doubly careful to avoid extra effort or fatigue.

More Rest

Even before his stroke, the "periods of rest and recreation" which the President warned the country he must have, had become longer than ever. And those who surround him, and have over-protected him in the past, will be more zealous than ever in their efforts to wrap him in cotton wool.

Despite all this, it is probably better that the President, short of a permanent impairment, remain on the job to which the country elected him. But in the wake of this third illness, the President can hardly be fairly expected to be more than a part-time President. And that, in a time of great and continuing danger, is not a happy prospect, and there is no use pretending that it is.

CANT I KEEP EM 'TIL CHRISTMAS? THEYD MAKE SWEET PRESENTS!

From Our Files

Dec. 2, 1897—Paris: It will be a wonder if the Dreyfus-Esterhazy affair is not provocative of a crop of duels. Several Paris newspapers are fighting one another and personalities are flying.

Dec. 2, 1917—San Francisco: A fighting force of 100,000 men comprising privateers and peasants of the Tibetan plateau have been offered to Britain for service with the Allies.

Dec. 2, 1937—Montreal: For the third successive day provincial officers met an incoming Toronto train and seized the daily shipment of the Toronto Communist paper, The Clarion. They confiscated 700 copies.

The Small Extravagance

CATHERINE came home quite delighted with her small extravagance—a little oval box of wood painted blue and adorned with a bright design.

"It was tucked away on a counter of Christmas stuff," she told her husband. "Just the one. Made in West Germany and only $1. I couldn't resist it."

"What'll you do with it?" he teased. "Your passion for little boxes is developing into a mania."

Catherine laughed. "I don't suppose I'll do anything with it. Except look at it with love, and dust it every now and then."

Carefully, she examined the construction of the box. "It's like the Slick Box," she said. "Do you remember the oval scarlet one I had? It was full of little treasures and the children were only allowed to look at them when they were sick in bed."

"I don't remember it," he said.

"Oh darling, it was on the mantelpiece for about 14 years."

"Never noticed it," he said, and Catherine gave a little sigh for the queerness of the masculine mind.

For the scarlet box, until it was broken in the shuffle of house moving, had been very dear to her.

Now, looking at its new blue counterpart, she could see past the phase when handling the scarlet one had been a treat for the children. She could see the day she'd bought it in an Austrian village where she was staying with friends who'd rented a charming villa from an aristocratic but impoverished Austrian couple.

The details of the villa were lost to her, but she could remember parts of the garden, and how the Austrians came one day to see their tenants. The Prince and Princess, they were called, and Catherine, with the ignorance of 16, had expected something grand and regal. Instead they seemed quite ordinary—the Prince in shabby leather shorts, and the Princess dumpy, dowdy, with a naturalness that put an awkward 16-year-old at ease.

Catherine remembered having to make a curtsy and kiss the little hand, and how the talk turned to wild strawberries in an alpine meadow, and to the chamois shooting in the mountains.

The mountain part was the best part of all, Catherine thought. Not the shooting, which she hated, but the walking, young and strong and free, among the mountains.

Often they walked all day. The morning start was often cold and dark, she remembered. Some days the rain beat down on them until they were soaking to the skin. Some days were hot enough to send the sweat trickling down her body.

But the peaks, she'd never forget the mountain peaks, rosy in the after-sunset glow.

She'd been too young and immature to understand parts of that summer—the rich German industrialist renting the shooting from the impoverished Austrian nobility, the pride of the mountain-bred guides, and their secret appraisal of how the city people would stand up to days of climbing and stalking chamois. But, unconsciously, she'd felt the feudalism of the atmosphere because it was new and strange to her.

She remembered the full skirts and sturdy boots of the village girl who'd been hired to cook for the visitors in the shooting boxes; the sneaky, grizzled strength of the oldest guide, the crouching and the crawling as they stalked; the peering over a rocky ridge to scan the valleys down below.

But it was the walking that was so wonderful, the walking and the altitude and the glorious mountain air.

"It was Heaven," said the Catherine of today, with her thickening waist and greying hair.

"What was Heaven?" asked her husband. "Some of the things this little box reminds me of. A summer in Austria, years ago. Alt-Aussee, the village was. We walked among the mountains."

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

I-Love-School Age

LONDON—A fine old rumpus in the house today with young Mac stomping his feet and yelling blue murder. Reason: he had a bad cold yesterday and was kept away from school; it was no better this morning so with this Asian flu around and we said he'd stay home again today. "But I want to go to school!" he kept shouting.

This, I would say, is abnormal. Isn't it traditional that a kid of his age of 11 welcomes with open arms any reason for not going to school and isn't above cooking up reasons of his own? I know that the smell of chalk always makes my mind flash back to blackboard days at school and it never seems to be a happy memory.

But on the other hand I remember happily being in bed sick away from school, being lord of the manor in my bed, being waited on hand-and-foot and eagerly looking forward to the comics and candies and other surprises that my mother would bring back from her shopping.

But keeping Mac away from school produces the type of outburst you expect from a kid denied a special treat. It goes further. At summer holidays he counts the days until he can get back to school!

I've been pondering this peculiar situation. I know it's not because he's a brilliant scholar. In his school reports you have to check all his subjects, marked "Poor" and "Tries hard," until you get to an "Outstanding." That's the last on the list—Cricketer.

I think it must be something appealing about these English "prep" schools which boys attend preparatory to entering public schools. Reason I feel this is that two American boys next door have also been bitten by the I-Love-school bug.

When they moved in their mother asked our advice on schools and we said they could do worse than go to Mac's school. And it was interesting to watch their sudden transformation from T-shirt-jeans-and-crew-cut kids to English schoolboys.

My wife went along when their school uniforms were being bought and they were intrigued with all the so-English garb—grey flannel shorts and shirts, pale blue school cap and matching blazer, Wellingtons (high rubber boots), heavy woolen sports sweater and blue gabardine raincoat.

They so liked the clothes they insisted on wearing everything from the shop, perspiration pouring from them on the hot sunny day.

Starting at school, they were fascinated to find there is no homework except for a bit on weekends. Their sister, put into one of the special American schools here, got homework on the first day and has been up to her neck in it ever since.

Nehru Praises Links With Commonwealth

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru praised a new kind of peaceful coexistence today—that of the Commonwealth.

"What strikes me so much about the Commonwealth is not its points of likeness but rather that its points of differences which have not been allowed to come in the way of our meeting, consulting and co-operating," he said.

"If that is good for the Commonwealth it should be good also for other countries," he told delegates from 30 Commonwealth countries and territories opening an eight-day Commonwealth Parliamentary Association conference here.

India, Pakistan and Ceylon are hosts to the 102 delegates at the conference, first of its kind in Asia.

Discussion subjects include economic, international and defence affairs, the problems of under-developed Commonwealth members and the role of the English language in the Commonwealth.

Adviser's Role Ending for Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson may end his work as an adviser to the Eisenhower administration on NATO policies this week.

Conceding the end was coming "a little sooner than expected," Stevenson said Sunday night. He has no plans to join the U.S. delegation at a Dec. 16-18 meeting of the heads of state of NATO countries, at which closer allied scientific and defensive collaboration will be sought.

But he said he "would certainly consider" any request from the administration that he participate. But he said a Paris trip "hasn't even been discussed."

Churchill Earldom Likely

LONDON (AP)—The Laborite Daily Herald says Sir Winston Churchill may accept an earldom after all because of the personal wishes of the Queen.

There has been no indication from Churchill, who was 83 Saturday, that he intends to leave the House of Commons to move to the House of Lords.

The Daily Herald says word has seeped through government quarters that Prime Minister Macmillan has again raised the subject with the man who led Britain to victory in the Second World War.

The story continued: "It is said that apart from approaches by the prime minister, the Queen would particularly like Sir Winston to accept the honor."

"Winston declined an earldom when he resigned as prime minister in early 1953."

"If he now decides to accept British monarchs tradition it will be because of the ally offer a retiring prime Queen's personal wishes."

Canadian Voices Fear of British Trade Invasion

EDINBURGH, Scotland (CP)—Harold V. Lush is one of the Canadian trade mission members deeply concerned over British industry.

But Lush, 69-year-old president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is not concerned over British efficiency or salesmanship—he thinks that the British people have that licked.

What he does fear is that industry here is becoming so powerful it soon may make a strong invasion of the Canadian market and freeze out some Canadian producers.

"If Canadian industry doesn't start pulling up its socks," he said in an interview, "I figure it is going to lose a percentage of the Canadian market."

TOO COMPEACENT

Lush, who heads Supreme Aluminium Industries Limited off Toronto, added:

"British industry can take care of itself. It doesn't need any help. But perhaps we in Canada have had a good time a little too long. We've become too complacent. From what I've seen here, I think we in Canada must start thinking about our own efficiency or we'll be in trouble."

What has caught his eye mostly is the growing strength of British producers. Since the end of the Second World War they have been concerned with rebuilding the vast production devastated by enemy bombers. The job of rebuilding now appears to be about done, but still British industry is expanding.

Manufacturers all through the first week of the mission's four-week tour have told of plans to expand production of automobiles and steel plate, planes and textiles, consumer goods and capital goods. And they're getting a little more hungry for foreign markets.

Repeatedly they ask for ideas

Largest Telescope Claimed by Russia

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia claimed last week to have the world's most powerful radio-telescope and to be working on another 50 times more powerful.

The Soviet news agency Tass quoted Dr. Semyon Khaikin, Soviet physicist and mathematician as saying the new telescope is 130 metres (about 425 feet) long and that the area of its reflecting bowl is 400 square metres (about 4,300 square feet).

Khaikin told a radio astronomers' conference here that the telescope can receive radio signals of a wavelength as short as three centimetres, or about 20 times shorter than those that can be received by the telescope at Jodrell Bank, England, reputed to be the largest in the world.

DEPTHS OF UNIVERSE

Khaikin said the new telescope could be used for studying the structure of the universe and "will make it possible for scientists to penetrate hundreds of millions of light years within the universe."

Another Soviet scientist, Prof. Nikolai Basov, told Tass that a radio telescope with a molecular amplifier which will increase its range approximately 50 times is being built in Russia. "The molecular generator radiotelescope will lay the foundation of a new science—cosmic chemistry," Basov said.

Hamilton Power Scuttles Bombers

Power running of Hamilton's Gerry MacDougall and Cookie Gilchrist was one of big reasons Tiger-Cats scored 32-7 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Grey Cup football classic at Toronto Saturday. Here

HAMILTON CUTS LOOSE AS 25,000 GREET CATS

HAMILTON (CP)—This football-mad city welcomed the Grey Cup back to eastern Canada Saturday night and rolled out the red carpet for its conquering heroes—the Tiger-Cats.

After a dash through post-game festivities in Toronto, the Tiger-Cats hurried back to Hamilton, where a crowd of 25,000 gathered in Market Square.

Bedlam broke loose as open cars carrying the players arrived—and couldn't get through. The players walked through the crowd to the platform where Mayor Lloyd Jackson greeted them.

Throughout the night sirens shrieked and car horns tooted. But police described things as "relatively orderly."

GREY CUP BRIEFS

Grant Feels Leos As Good as Cats

Coach Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger-Cats wasn't far off his prediction of the outcome of Saturday's Grey Cup football final against Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Trimble said last week that the Bombers would have to score more than 30 points to beat his Tiger-Cats.

The result: Winnipeg, 7; Hamilton, 32.

To most of the fans in Toronto's Varsity Stadium, and those who watched the classic on television, the Tiger-Cats looked like the best football team in Canada, but the Bombers weren't as impressed.

Bud Grant, the freshman coach who led the Bombers to the cup final in his first year, said after the game he did not consider Hamilton the toughest club Winnipeg had faced this year.

"Just ask the players," he said. "They consider the Tiger-Cats about on a par with the British Columbia Lions." Lions finished fourth in the Western Interprovincial Football Union race.

But Grant didn't take anything away from the Tiger-Cats' play in the Canadian final. "They outplayed us in every department," he said.

Turning point of the game may have come when Bomber fullback Gerry James fumbled on the Hamilton four-yard line early in the second half.

"If we had got a touchdown then," said manager Bill Bolvin, "it might have been different."

Defensive halfback Keith Pearce, who has been with the Bombers since 1950, announced after the game that he was retiring, but import quarterback Jenny Ploen left no doubt that he wanted to return to Winnipeg next season.

However, the former Iowa star's military status in the U.S. is in doubt.

Trimble, carried around by the Hamilton dressing room by the Tics, had words of praise for Grant, who played, under Trimble in the National Football League.

"He did the best he could with what he had. I'm real proud of him."

Ray "Bibbles" Bawel, who was tripped by a spectator after intercepting a pass, wasn't bitter about being robbed of a possible second touchdown.

"How can you have a day like this and feel bitter about anything," said Bawel, who had just had his greatest game of the season, intercepting two passes, grabbing off a fumble for a long gain and scoring a touchdown.

Cam Fraser, whose booming punts forced the Bombers deep into their own zone at crucial points throughout the classic may have echoed the feelings of most of the players as he stretched out on a bench in the dressing room.

"No practice Monday," he grinned. "Oh boy!"

McKinnon's Crew Proves Poor Host

Victoria's YMCA swimming team had little trouble defeating a YMCA squad from Bremerton, Wash., Saturday night at Crystal Garden as they thumped the visiting splashers, 172-95.

Looking better every time, Archie McKinnon's "Flying Y" team took top honors in nearly all of the 35 events, which were divided into three age groupings.

JBAA Squad Learns From Educated Boot

With veteran three-quarter Dick Ellis using his educated toe to best advantage Saturday at Macdonald Park, Oak Bay Wanderers kicked their way to a 9-3 opening day win over JBAA in the Victoria Rugby Union.

Ellis opened scoring with a penalty kick and added a second after Frank Berry had booted a 35-yard field goal to break the deadlock created by Oarsmen's Doug Brown's penalty score.

(From CP Dispatches)

Rushing and passing figures don't mean a thing in football. Winnipeg Blue Bombers know it.

The Bombers, under the leadership of import quarterback Kenny Ploen, outpassed and out-rushed Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Grey Cup classic at Toronto Saturday. Yet they lost 32-7.

The reason? Bomber fumbles and spectacular Hamilton defensive plays when they meant the most.

Here's how the Bombers, Western Interprovincial Football Union champions, and the Big Four Tiger-Cats stacked up in the running and aerial statistics:

On the ground Winnipeg hammered out a respectable 168 yards; Hamilton 163. In the air Winnipeg picked up 178 yards; Hamilton got 66. Bombers recorded 20 first downs; Tics 12.

TRAIL OF ERRORS

The Tiger-Cats were as letter-perfect as a team can be with the glamorous Canadian championship at stake. Their errors were negligible.

But the injury-riddled Bombers, bad enough off physically in facing the powerhouse Cats, left a trail of miscues from end zone to end zone.

Fumbles took a terrific toll. But even without the Winnipeg bobbles, it was Hamilton's day.

In the overall assessment, Tiger-Cats were unbeatable on the field of Varsity Stadium, with 27,391 fans marvelling at Hamilton's rock-ribbed line and striking power in the backfield.

EARLY HAMILTON LEAD

The Cats took command early with two touchdowns in the first quarter. The game Bombers, yielding every yard grudgingly and calling on the spirit that carried them to the western title, fought back savagely in the second and third quarters.

Tics' offensive was stalled for those 30 minutes but they gave up nothing themselves.

The Cats unleashed their greatest offensive drive in the final quarter, rolling to three more touchdowns before the Bombers were able to get out of a watertight shell.

Cookie Gilchrist helped himself to two of Hamilton's five touchdowns. Bernie Faloney, Gerry McDougall and Ray Bawel—the man who pranced for the first touchdown on a Winnipeg fumble—had one each. Steve Oneschuk, the sure-footed hooter, was able to register only two converts. High snaps washed out two and another was blocked.

MENDYK SCORES

Late in the fourth quarter Dennis Mendyk took Barry Roseborough's pass for Winnipeg's lone touchdown. It was converted by limping Kenny Ploen, corn-husker quarterback who had to give way to homeboy Roseborough after being injured in the third quarter. It was the only forward-pass touchdown of the game.

And for the first time in a cup game a fan became the 25th man in play. Bawel, streaking goalward down the sideline in the fourth quarter, was sent flying when deftly tripped by the spectator standing near the Winnipeg bench.

There was a great to-do, in words only. The spectator, said to be a Toronto lawyer, sheepishly got himself lost in the gathering crowd. Whether he wore a toupee pass or not nobody seemed to know.

The amazed officials promptly made their ruling and plunked the ball down at the halfway spot from where Bawel hit the ground to the goal line.

Tiger-Cats' win was their first Grey Cup title since 1953, and the Bombers were 12-6 victims that year. In the three intervening years, Edmonton Eskimos won over Montreal Alouettes.

Hamilton has won the cup seven times in 10 bids for it. Winnipeg has won three times and lost 11.

The East-West count now stands 23-7 in favor of the East.

Peg Lost Grey Cup, But Not Fans

WINNIPEG (CP)—More than 6,000 autograph-hungry fans Sunday afternoon gave Winnipeg Blue Bombers a tumultuous welcome home here in near-zero weather.

Bombers arrived here about 90 minutes late aboard a Trans-Canada Air Lines Viscount from Toronto.

When the plane landed, the players were greeted by their wives and Premier D. L. Campbell.

From the airport, the players travelled, first to city hall in nearby St. James where they were greeted by about 750 fans and then to Winnipeg Arena where nearly 5,500 fans had waited, some for five hours. They received a tremendous ovation.

Other fans lined the route taken by the caravan.

Navy Defence Topples Army

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ned Oldham, hobbled by a knee injury since mid-season, led fired-up Navy into the Cotton Bowl on a 14-0 victory over Army Saturday behind a rock-ribbed defence that bottled up the Cadets' touchdown twins.

Navy will play Rice in the Jan. 1 game at Dallas.

The decision to accept the bowl bid was made on a ballot by the Middles in their dressing room. Navy went to the Sugar Bowl following their 20-7 victory over the Cadets in 1954.

Oldham drove through a host of defenders on a six-yard touchdown run in the first period and down 44 yards on a punt return for the second score early in the fourth period.

Just to keep things in the family, the 21-year-old captain of the Navy team from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, also converted twice.

Navy's two-deep line and sturdy defence contained Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins, the halfbacks who had scored in every previous Army game. It was the first time the high-scoring Cadets had been shut out all season.

FIGHT RESULTS

STUTTGART, Germany—Gustav Scholz, 54, Germany, outpointed Alex Buxton, 181, England, 10.
JOHANNESBURG—Willie Toogit, South Africa, outpointed Al Nevares, Mexico, 30.

QUEENS' FIRST LOST

Going Gets Rougher, But Vikings Sail On

Digging hard toward their second western Canada junior basketball crown, Victoria College Vikings took a narrow 59-54 win over Dairy Queen Eds for their third straight victory in the Senior "B" Men's Basketball League at Central Junior High School Saturday night.

It was the first loss of the season for the powerful Dairy Queens, who were paced by lanky Johnny Clark in the bucket with a floor-topping 20 points.

Bob Tomlinson and Waldo Skillings paced Vikings with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Cougars in Double Win; Dorohoy Provides Spark

Eddie Scores Four Goals Against Canucks, Amerks

Cougars 4, Americans 2

Victoria Cougars have a new look on life today. The Cougars took a big step up the Coast Division ladder of the Western Hockey League with two victories over the weekend and will be shooting for their third straight when they host New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena Wednesday.

Eddie Dorohoy was the big gun for the Cats, who knocked off Vancouver Canucks, 6-5, at Memorial Arena Saturday night and followed up with a 4-2 triumph over the Americans at Seattle Sunday.

Dorohoy, who has had trouble shaking off effects of a bout with influenza, was a ball of fire as he sparked the Cats to their first, two-game winning streak of the season. The Pistol collected five points in Saturday's tussle and rapped in two goals and picked up one assist at Seattle for an eight-point weekend and nine points in the Cougars' last three games.

The victory at Seattle, fifth of the season for the Cougars, boosted the Cats within 13 points of Seattle, which trails the second-place Canucks by a single point.

Dorohoy's latest surge started when youthful Stan Bialuk played his first game with the Cougars last Friday, operating on a line with Dorohoy and Blinky Boyce.

Bialuk continued his better than a point a game average Sunday, rapping in one goal and collecting an assist on one of Dorohoy's tallies. Smooth Gordie Haworth scored the fourth Cougar goal.

Seattle goals were credited to Ray Kinasevich and Gordie Sinclair.

Dorohoy also had a pair of goals and added three assists Saturday as the Cougars held off a desperate third-period rally by the Canucks to chalk up their second home ice win of the season.

Gordie Wilson fired two of the Cougars' goals Saturday and Doug Macauley notched one tally.

Former Cougar Bill Dobbey set the pace for the Canucks with two goals and rookies Orland Kurtenbach and Bob Robinson each beat goalie Emile Francis once.

Stubborn forechecking and hustle kept the Americans off balance most of the way Sunday as the Cats came from behind to score a convincing win.

EDDIE DORHOY ... and Pistol fired

The Victorians came back with two first period goals after Kinasevich and given the Amerks an early lead and were never headed.

Dorohoy was also a central figure in wild brawl late in the third period as he tangled with Don Chipka. Both received major penalties, as did Bialuk and Seattle's Art Hart who joined in the battle.

Cougars gave 3,017 Memorial Arena fans some anxious moments before squeezing by the Canucks.

For the fourth successive home game they jumped into a 2-0 lead in the opening period and for the fourth time it appeared that they were going to come out on the short end of the count when Vancouver pulled even early in the second session.

But Gordie Wilson's goal pulled the Cougars back on even keel midway in the period and they were in front 6-2 starting the third session.

Canucks hammered steadily at the Victoria net to pull within one tally as Dobbey scored his second goal with just over four minutes remaining and the battling Cats had several close calls before time ran out on the Canucks.

New York Hopes Upset by 49ers

By United Press

Cleveland Browns, who have missed only one championship game in 11 years, and the Baltimore Colts, who never have played in one, will clash for the 1957 National Football League title if they win next Sunday.

Cleveland, driving to pull one of the finest comebacks in NFL history, can win the Eastern Division title for the seventh time in eight tries by whipping the Lions at Detroit. A Cleveland victory over the Lions, parlayed with a Baltimore triumph over the Forty-Niners at San Francisco, would give Baltimore the Western crown.

Each of the five leaders has two more games but Cleveland and Baltimore victories next Sunday would give them unbeatable leads.

Browns took a 1½-game lead Sunday by shutting out Chicago Cardinals, 31-0. The Forty-Niners gave Cleveland a big assist by upsetting the New York Giants, defending league and Eastern Division champions, 27-17. A victory or a tie against the Lions or the Giants Dec. 15 at New York would give Cleveland the eastern title.

Colts remained a game ahead of Detroit and San Francisco in the western race by defeating the Los Angeles Rams, 31-14, before a record Baltimore pro football crowd of 52,060. Detroit kept within range of Baltimore with an 18-6 Thanksgiving Day triumph over the Green Bay Packers.

Barry on Bit But Britannia Clips Eagles

Goalie Barry Richardson proved all but unbeatable Saturday in Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association as Eagles dropped a 1-0 decision to Britannia Legion though only able to field a team of nine players.

Al Hickman was the only scorer able to pass Richardson in the hard-fought tussle between the two division V teams.

In Sunday's action, Alex Lacey's goal gave Optimists a thrilling 1-0 First Division victory over Mariners, while in Division II Texaco edged the Eagles 2-1.

The Division II encounter almost provided the biggest upset of the season. Eagles had previously dropped 11-0 and 7-0 decisions to Texacos. Fred Potts and Bill Mundy scored for the winners, while right wing Brian Snead, a standout, scored for Eagles.

Home Ice Cures Mikulan Malady

By The Canadian Press

After an unspectacular Western Hockey League sophomore season with Vancouver Canucks, goalie Ray Mikulan of Winnipeg Warriors is proving the deal that brought him home was a good one.

The Winnipeg native performed in top fashion for Art Chapman two years ago and won the Coast Division's rookie award.

This spring, following a year in which neither Mikulan nor his Canucks mates measured up, he found himself the Warriors' property.

Saturday Ray was unbeatable on 37 shots as the Warriors defeated Calgary Stampede 2-0 to remain in first place in the league's Prairie Division. Last year the Warriors finished at the bottom.

The Winnipeggers have a five-point lead over second-place Edmonton Flyers, who downed third-place Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals 6-1 in Saskatoon.

TWO FOR COUGARS

On the coast, Victoria Cougars edged Vancouver 6-5 Saturday and whipped Seattle 4-2 Sunday on the Americans' home ice.

New Westminster Royals increased their first-place margin to three points by trouncing Seattle 6-1 Saturday.

In Calgary, with Mikulan picking up his third shutout and a tie with Vancouver's Marcel Pelletier in this department, Art Stratton and Danny Summers scored the goals.

Flyers got a hatrick from Dennis Olson in Saskatoon. Len Lunde, Pat Ginnell and Hugh Coffin scored the others while former Toronto Maple Leaf Vic Lynn tallied for the Regals.

In New Westminster, Royals connected for three in the second period and three in the third to beat Seattle. Former Warrior Hugh Barlow got two goals and two assists and Gary Edmondson two and one. Gordie Fashaway, perennial 30-goal-a-season man, and Arnie Schmautz scored one each while Guyle Fielder scored for the Americans.

Television on Sunday Irks Minor Ball Heads

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Sunday television of major league baseball posted a new worry for minor league baseball executives at their annual meeting today.

The television issue was pitched into the convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues by the International League directors.

They said in a resolution they were "very concerned" about a reported plan for a Sunday TV broadcast of major league ball "inasmuch as attendance in the minor leagues is dependent upon Sunday attendance."

International League president Shag Shaughnessy voiced the reaction of other minor league executives with the angry declaration that "Sunday's the only decent day we have—now they want to take that away from us too."

There had been reports Denver of the American Association and Dallas and Houston of the Texas League, that their circuits would operate the same next year.

The National League clubs were reported to have offered $600,000 to the Pacific Coast League, to be paid over a three-

Esquimalt Blows Chance for First

Esquimalt blew a two-goal lead and their chances to drive into first place in the Victoria and District Football League Sunday at Heywood Avenue Park when they dropped a 4-2 decision to Canadian Scottish.

The win was enough to move the Scots two points ahead of the Dockyarders, who are tied with Tillamums and Brodie's Bakery in the runner-up spot.

Brodie's jumped from a fourth-place tie to their second-place berth with a 7-3 swamping of Canadian Hungarians at Central Park.

Keith Todd and Tom Sloan booted Esquimalt into a 2-0 half-time lead but they couldn't hold on as Scott's Don Jones hammered home a pair of markers to even the count.

Bill Ackinose and Ernie Eastlake scored the winners for Scottish.

LEROY LEADS 'EM

Leroy Bond paced Brodie's with a three-goal display and Henry Vanderhoor picked up a pair of tallies in the Bakers' one-sided triumph over Hungarians. Joe Hillhouse and Jackie McMillan scored the other goals for Brodie's.

Hungarian scorers were Otto Petrovsky, Antal Major and Tibor Csordas.

In the first round of the injured players' fund competition Chris Braun scored once in each half as Punjab United defeated Victoria Kickers 2-1. Dick Nellesstijn was Kickers' goalgetter.

ABBOTT SPARKLES

Talk of the soccer weekend was the display of scoring power put on by Gorge Hotel's Billy Abbott as the chunky centre-forward hit for all four Hotelmen tallies to down powerful Tillamums, 4-2, in Saturday's Jackson Cup final at Royal Athletic Park.

Trailing, 2-1, at the half, after scores by Abbott and Tillamums' Maurice Bunyan and Ced Robb, Gorge evened the count midway through the second stanza on Abbott's second corner.

Taking advantage of a fumble on the part of Till's goalie, Abbott notched the tie-breaker and added the gravy with his fourth-goal insurance marker.

Hall Has Rough Outings Against Leafs, Canyans

By Canadian Press

Two burly forwards—potentially well-matched but poles apart on the scale of National Hockey League success—shattered the pride of goalie Glenn Hall during the weekend.

Jean Beliveau, a seasoned star in his fifth season with Montreal Canadiens, rattled three goals past Hall Saturday night in Montreal as the Habits trounced Chicago Black Hawks 6-1. The victory pushed Montreal's first-place margin to three points over New York Rangers.

Frank Mahovlich, a rookie with Toronto Maple Leafs, fired three goals into Hall's net Sunday night as Leafs whipped the Hawks 7-2 in Chicago. That win tugged Toronto out of the league cellar for the first time this season and into fourth place, one point ahead of Detroit and two up on Chicago.

In other games Saturday Toronto edged Boston Bruins 3-2 in Toronto and Detroit topped the Rangers 3-1 in New York. Sunday, Montreal took Boston 4-1 and New York turned on Detroit with a 5-1 victory.

INCOMPARABLE

Beliveau, at 26, stands at the peak of his career. Mahovlich, 19, is barely into the foothills.

Beliveau showed 13,988 fans how he earned his stature Saturday night as he scored the winning goal against Chicago in the second period and added two more to bring his season total to 11. He also gained an assist on Montreal's last goal, by Bert Olmstead, in the third.

Don Marshall and Doug Harvey scored the other Canadian goals. Ed Litzenberger was Chicago's lone marksman.

Olmstead scored again Sunday, providing the insurance marker in the victory over Boston. Bernie Geoffrion broke a scoreless deadlock in the second period and Henri Richard added what proved the winning goal two minutes later. Phil Goyette added the fourth Montreal tally before the end of the second. Real Chevrelis provided Boston's only goal in the third while Canadians were short-handed.

SWITCH PAID OFF

Mahovlich, switched from centre to left wing last week by coach Billy Reay and working with centre Billy Harris and Ted Sloan, posted two goals in the second period and another in the third against Chicago.

Brian Cullen, Rudy Migay, Dick Duff and Bob Pulford padded out the Toronto scoring. Glen Skov and Bob Bailey scored for Chicago.

Saturday night it was Brian Cullen's brother Barry who got the winning goal against Boston. Bronco Horvath and Vic Stasiuk gave Boston an early lead in the first six minutes of the game but Gary Aldcorn and defenceman Tim Horton tied it in the second.

Red Kelly scored two goals to lead the Red Wings to their victory over New York Saturday. His first tied the score and his second clinched matters in the third period. Gordie Howe produced the winning goal. Dave Creighton of the Bruins spoiled Terry Sawchuk's shutout.

New York snapped its four-game losing streak Sunday night against Detroit. Centre Norm Ullman put the Red Wings into a brief lead at 7:33 of the first period but defenceman Bill Gadsby tied it up three minutes later. Dean Prentice scored the winner in the second and Rangers topped it off with Parry Popein. Parker MacDonald and Camille Henry all scoring within the first 10 minutes of the third period.

Wednesday night Montreal visits Toronto and Chicago moves into New York.

607 Fatalities During U.S. Holiday Weekend

By United Press

Traffic accidents killed more than 500 persons in the U.S. during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend to wreck hopes of safety officials that the fatality count would be held below that of a similar non-holiday period.

The United Press counted at least 507 persons killed on the nation's highways from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

Plane crashes killed nine persons and 101 were killed in miscellaneous accidents for an overall holiday toll of 617.

The traffic toll ran well ahead of this year's Fourth of July holiday, when 431 fatalities were recorded, and the three-day Labor Day holiday, which killed 445. However, it still was well below the tragic 706 traffic deaths counted during the four-day 1956 Christmas holiday.

The National Safety Council did not issue a traffic death estimate for the Thanksgiving holiday, but noted that about 500 persons would be killed during a normal four-day period at this time of year.

There may be times when you find it difficult to have cash on hand to meet the fixed payments and unexpected expenses that arise in the purchase and upkeep of your home. To enable you to provide funds to meet these inevitable expenses the Huron & Erie has introduced a new "Home Budget" account.

Suppose that you own a home valued at $15,000 on which there is a $7,000 mortgage at 7% payable over 15 years. The "Home Budget" table shows, in approximate figures, the more important expenses involved and how much you should deposit each weekly pay day to meet these expenses and to supply an extra "cushion".

In this way your regular fixed expenses can be paid each month while the "cushion" for the unexpected grows each pay day through the extra dollar per item per pay day you deposit.

Call at the Huron & Erie and ask about a "Home Budget" account—a way to help you make it easier to meet these expenses.

Inco Research helps Canada grow

A vast network of Inco mines and plants now obtains 14 elements from ore once thought to contain only copper. Millions are being spent each year for Inco research to recover new products and develop better methods.

NEW WEALTH FOR CANADA FROM INCO ORES

Inco Research finds ways to recover 14 different elements from Inco's Sudbury ores

IMAGINE—14 elements from one ore deposit! But it wasn't always that way. At first Inco ore was mined for one metal—copper. It turned out that the ore contained more nickel than copper. To make use of the ore at all, research had to work out a method of separating the nickel from the copper.

Since that time, Inco research has developed ways of recovering twelve other elements, most of which are present in the ore in minute quantities.

Gold and silver came first, recovered from the sludge left after refining nickel and copper. Then one after another came platinum, palladium, rhodium, ruthenium and iridium; selenium and tellurium.

Sulphur gases are recovered in large and increasing quantities for conversion into industrial products.

After several years of cobalt oxide production, electrolytic cobalt was added to the list of Inco products. In 1955, a 19-million dollar plant was built to obtain exceptionally high-grade iron ore previously lost in the slag.

Thus does Inco research continue to develop new products and processes that help stimulate the growth of Canadian industry and provide jobs for Canadians.

DARING RESCUE

CRANBROOK—Two Kimberley residents were rescued in a three-hour operation Saturday after their half-ton truck plunged 90 feet into the St. Mary's River at Wycliffe.

A rescue team headed by ambulance volunteers Ed Swanson and Jimmy Macdonald removed Donald Miller on a stretcher through the broken rear window of the battered truck, which lay in shallow water.

Thrown from the truck as it ricocheted off the embankment after plowing through the bridge's guard rail was Marjorie Pasutto.

She was strapped to an improvised stretcher and hauled to the road by hastily fashioned cable.

16 Rinks Take Home Prizes Worth $1,000

DUNCAN—Sixteen of the 24 rinks entered in the Duncan Curling Club three-day mixed bonspiel took home prizes valued at nearly one thousand dollars Sunday night.

All four final games were tied at the end of eight ends and two of them were decided by one rock, one game going an extra end.

A Duncan rink skipped by young Deanna Lederer captured the T. Eaton Company main event, beating Mrs. Irene Heddie, Nanaimo, 9-5. With Miss Lederer were Tony Folk, third; Bill Thomas, second; and Mrs. Mary Robertson, lead. Mrs. Heddie's rink had George Lunn third, Tommy Heddie second, and Mrs. Ethel Gilchrist lead.

The third event for the Garner's Builders' Supplies trophy was taken by Mrs. Ina Chappell, Lake Cowichan, in a thrilling extra end battle with Mrs. Doris Fraser, Victoria. With Mrs.

The accident occurred on Dyke Road about two miles east of here.

Sgt. MacKay was found lying beside the car, entangled in the wires.

Witnesses said that the car door could possibly have touched the wires as the victim was trying to escape from the car.

Fisheries officers Tony Green and Ross Walsh of Courtenay arrived on the scene on the Courtenay-Comox Road soon after the accident and pulled the airman's body free by means of a rope. They said his clothes were burned through.

James Mitchell, who lives 100 yards from the scene, said the car was "lit up" by sparks when he looked out after hearing the crash.

Sgt. MacKay lived at King Coho resort near Comox and was a member of the RCAF fire department at the Comox station. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and a brother in Edmonton.

Before embarking on his self-described underworld adventures Wilson was a Baptist minister in his native Ontario. He operated a mission in London, Ont., for several years after the First World War. His recent writings have emphasized the futility of crime.

2 Elected Trustees in First Sooke Vote

JOHN S. WILLIAMS

LANGFORD — Two trustees were returned to Sooke School Board Saturday in the first school election held in district, for voters in Langford, Colwood, Glen Lake, and Metchesin.

Trustee Aubrey Hull of Langford led the poll with 388 votes, and board chairman John S. Williams was second with 376 votes.

Defeated candidates were Howard Sewell, 214 votes; James C. Polson, 199, and Frederick H. Boulter, 58.

Of the estimated 2,500 voters in the area, only 662 cast ballots.

The open election was held this year in the populated area of the district to replace the new system of choosing representatives in school attendance areas, who in turn choose trustees from among their own number.

This system will continue to be observed in the remainder of the large district, that includes Sooke, Saseenos, Otter Point, Jordan River, and Port Renfrew.

The following representatives have been chosen at recent area meetings: Violet A. Davidson, Port Renfrew; Mrs. Myrtle Pednault, Shirley, replacing Trustee J. T. Hunter of Jordan River, and W. D. Nichol, East Sooke.

Fountain Circle Problem Tackled Again by Council

The civic spotlight shifted in Victoria today from Point Ellice Bridge back to the roundabout.

Council public works chairman, Ald. M. H. Mooney called for an early start on long-delayed renovations to the Fountain Circle at the Hillside-Gorge-Douglas-Government Street six-way intersection.

Council decided in August, after prolonged controversy, to adopt a one-way traffic system to overcome traffic jams at the roundabout.

But implementation of the scheme was delayed until completion of Point Ellice Bridge. It was felt the improved bridge might have an effect on the traffic using the intersection and new studies were indicated.

"The sooner we get the one-way streets into effect, the better off we'll be," said Ald. Mooney today.

He said the traffic centre would be closely watched for "a week or so," to determine if traffic patterns have been changed by the bridge opening. He felt the changing of Bay Street to a through street for its entire length would also have an effect which should be studied.

Works department reported the new traffic lights for Bay Street at Blanshard, Quadra, Cook and Fernwood have now arrived here. Work on installation is expected to start Thursday or Friday and be completed two weeks later.

NEW STOP SIGNS

"All secondary streets intersecting with Bay have already been fitted with stop signs and the stop signs on Bay at Shelbourne are to be removed, with the new stop signs on Shelbourne becoming effective at that point."

"The money for the roundabout renovation is already earmarked and held in a special fund. The work does not represent any increase in next year's spending," the alderman pointed out.

Total of $30,000 was reserved for the job.

Under the scheme, traffic to the roundabout from the downtown area will be one-way south on Government between the roundabout and Princess. Princess will become a cross-over street and will be widened and resurfaced.

Mayor Percy Scurrell thought the project would profit from a wait of "a month or two" while the effect of the bridge and Bay Street traffic is studied.

MONTE ROBERTS

No person can accuse this column of being the wittiest in the whole wide ever-revolving world. Nor the most erudite. Or the most intellectual. Or best written. Or most smoothly polished. Or most controversial. Or least likely to lead to cancellations of subscriptions to the paper.

But by golly darn and gee whizz, no person can deny this column KEEPS YOU INFORMED.

Like as for instance, this column KEPT YOU INFORMED on Friday of last week.

This column, you may recall, informed you C & C taxi company was so named because of the initials of the Christian names of the founders, Messrs. Cecil Rhodes and Cecil Rawlings.

Where but in this space could you BE KEPT INFORMED in such a wonderful way?

But stick around. In the same vein, I intend to KEEP YOU INFORMED about the GPR—as just one example.

The CPR, I am glad to INFORM YOU, was founded by three brothers named Cyril, Percival and Reginald.

And in case you are under any misapprehension regarding the CBC, the initials stand for Crumpets Before Collapsing.

Among other priceless bits of information you are apt to find here in the near future are:

The E & N was named by an early resident who decided the railway was Elegant and Noteworthy.

The WIFU means a governing body which Will Increase Fines Ultimately.

BCER stands for Boys, Curls, Ebb-tide, and Rah-Rah-Rah. You see what I mean?

This column KEEPS YOU INFORMED.

And in this connection I wish to express my thanks to the 27 people who telephoned me on Friday evening, each of whom wished to KEEP ME INFORMED that C & C was named for Cameron and Caldwell, transportation pioneers here in the First World War Days.

The only apology I can make is this:

Possibly due to the influence of being a resident of British Columbia, where all citizens are KEPT INFORMED.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Allan James Horan, no fixed address, was charged in Sidney RCMP court Saturday with break-in and theft of $25 in silver, three shotguns and a high-powered rifle from Sidney Sporting Goods early Thursday.

He was remanded without plea to Dec. 9, and is being held in custody.

Cats' Protection League raised almost $400 at its annual tea and bazaar Saturday in the Canadian Legion Hall, Blanshard Street.

The money will be put to the shelter building fund and regular league expenses.

The provincial cabinet today proclaimed Thursday, Dec. 26, Boxing Day, a public holiday under the Factories Act.

Newcomer to Victoria, David Michael Jones, 16, has been missing from his home, 3364 Doncaster, since 8:30 a.m. Sunday. Saanich police said today. The youth is described as 5'7" tall, slim, blonde with blue eyes and wearing grey trousers, black shoes, light brown jacket and overcoat.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—What is the value of a Hyderabad mohur?—F.D.B.

A.—This is bankrupt currency today. To a collector, a mohur would be worth about $1.20.

Q.—How did Hardwicke Island come by its name?—C.H.

A.—It was named by Captain Vancouver in 1792 after Philip York, third earl of Hardwicke.

Q.—How did buckwheat get its name?—J.E.

A.—The name comes from a Dutch word, boekweit, or from the German, buckelweizen. Both mean "buck wheat" so called because the three-sided seed resembles the buck nut. Flour for buckwheat cakes comes from the seed of the plant.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Victoria voters list, slightly increased in total over last year, was to be posted at City Hall later today for public inspection.

Court of revision for correction of errors or omission was held in council chambers Nov. 15.

Copies of the revised list will be available to candidates and others interested, at a cost of 50 cents.

Final total of the list was not available at noon, but it is thought to be increased slightly over the 1956 total of 20,779.

Donations from two more union locals have boosted Victoria Labor Council's drive to raise $10,000 for a senior citizens housing project to a total of $1,963, secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone said today.

Latest locals to send in donations were painters, $200, and barbers, $120.

Offices of B.C. Government Employees Credit Union, 544 Michigan, were entered at the weekend, but the thief apparently could find nothing to his liking to steal.

There was no money on the premises.

City police said a north side window was forced, the inner door to the credit office was then forced and drawers and filing cabinets jimmied.

Last regular Saanich council meeting before the Dec. 12 election will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

Appointments to local Zoning Appeal Boards throughout the province were approved today by the cabinet.

All are for a three-year period. James Gray, 2985 Rutland, Oak Bay; Charles U. Haywood, 4436 Tyndall, Saanich; John Edward Tahner, Stelly's Cross Road, Central Saanich; and George S. Thornbury, 1199 Old Esquimalt Road, Esquimalt.

City police cried for help today from boys and girls who have lost bicycles within the past three months.

A storage room at the police station has a stack of about 40 bikes, of all sizes—including tricycles—reaching nearly to the ceiling.

There just isn't room for many more and police would like owners to claim their property.

SIDNEY GROCER-BUTCHER A. D. Harvey shows safe with dial knocked off by thieves over weekend who escaped with $400 from store. He discovered break-in himself at 9 a.m. Sunday; was forced to get change to open business today as thieves took all cash, including silver. Thugs entered by tearing out two iron bars from rear window and squeezing through. His premises were one of four entered and $1,200 in cash loot taken.—(Photo by Cliff Vollrath)

Arena Profits Down 75 Per Cent So Far

A 75 per cent reduction in profits was shown today in a report by Victoria Memorial Arena.

Balance sheets for the first five months of the current fiscal year show net profits to be $1,473 as compared to $6,061 in the same period of 1956. Revenues are down about $3,400 and expenditures are increased about $2,000 for the period.

The city-owned entertainment centre reported one of the smallest profits in its seven-year history last August and for the first time was unable to meet its full commitments to the city—an annual $25,000 return on investment.

The 1956 profit was $26,656, lowest since 1950 when it was $25,890. Highest annual profit was $60,892 in 1954. A sudden drop in profits in 1955 was blamed on television.

A special arena committee of city council was to meet at 4 p.m. today to consider complaints by Ald. Hugh Ramsay directed at manager Joseph Dukowski. They were made at council last week and were concerned with alleged "misinformation" rather than at arena financing.

Theft of Logging Equipment Charge In Special Court

Trial of Lorne Earl Saunders, 3500 Saanich, charged with theft of about $1,100 worth of logging equipment July 26, 1956, was heard in a special sitting of Sooke RCMP court at Victoria today.

Session began at 10 a.m. and was not expected to be finished before late afternoon.

Police arrested Saunders at Crofton after a lengthy investigation of the theft from a Highway Sawmills Ltd. camp deep in the bush about 10 miles north of Sooke last year.

Stolen were a donkey-type industrial engine, tools, a grease gun, gasoline and a number of storage batteries.

WHAT MADE SAMMY RUN?

If You See a Friendly Seal Don't Sign Pledge—He's Lost

Somewhere along the Greater Victoria waterfront, Sam, a harbor seal six months old, is going to turn up looking for a handout.

He strayed away from his owner, David Hancock, sometime Friday night or Saturday morning, and is believed to be "all at sea."

"I only hope that when he is seen," people will give him the chance to show he is tame, and not shoot him or hit him on the head," his owner said today.

Sam shuffled off from his home at 4888 Wesley Road, high above Cordova Bay, and was next seen at 8 a.m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Grant, 4866 Lochside.

"There's nothing quite like seeing a seal come slithering around the corner of your house, especially when you've just wakened up," Mrs. Grant said today.

She said her brother-in-law turned up in time to suggest calling Saanich police. The law arrived in short order, and managed to put Sam in a box. Not knowing he was a pet, they took him one-half mile to Cordova Bay and turned him loose in the sea.

"He knows Cordova Bay," Mr. Hancock said. "I used to take him down there all summer, and he'd swim around, completely free, and would come when I called him to go home."

"He won't be able to find his own food," Mr. Hancock said, "and he wouldn't know a natural enemy if he saw one."

Killer whales especially like tender young seals, he said.

Sam is about three feet long, weighs about 40 pounds, and is grey in color with darker spots. His sorrowful expression is just a disguise, since he lives the life of Riley at the Hancock home with a pond 100 feet long, the run of the farm, and whole herring for food.

Mr. Hancock acquired Sam from the SPCA when he was about three weeks old, and fed him on a bottle for another three weeks. He moves well on dry land, but used to spend most of his time in the pond, Mr. Hancock said.

Burglars Escape With $1,200

4 Stores At Sidney Entered

Hard-working thieves Saturday night or early Sunday broke into four, Sidney stores and escaped with $1,200 cash.

The four stores are side-by-side on Sidney's main street.

ALBERNI SAFE YIELDS $800

Thieves broke in the Alberni Co-operative Store early today, blew up a safe with nitroglycerine and made off with about $800, Victoria detachment, RCMP, said. Alberni RCMP are investigating.

while A. D. Harvey Grocery and Meats suffered a $400 loss.

Sidney Cash and Carry and Bernard Shaw's dress shop, situated between the two establishments robbed, were also entered. Thieves were thwarted in both places due to the heavy safe in the cash and carry store which contained weekend receipts of $2,000, and about $500 hidden in the dress shop.

SAFE UP-ENDED

Entry was first gained to the drug store by jimmying the back door. The safe in the rear of the store was up-ended and the bottom chopped out.

Store manager H. A. Dawson said "I assume they used an axe."

Cheques were strewn around the safe but none were reported missing.

W. W. Gardner, cash and carry store manager, said the burglars apparently were satisfied to take a carton of cigarettes. A half-consumed bottle of pop was left in the back of the store where the prowlers took out a window to get in.

"They even put the window back for me," said Mr. Gardner.

CHOPPING FAILED

Dress shop manager Mrs. Muriel Tuttle pointed out where the robbers had tried to cut through cement and plaster from the cash and carry shop to her establishment. They failed, and forced the rear door. But they tried again to chop through the wall of the shop into the adjacent, butcher shop.

Here, again they gave up, and came in through the back window.

"The dial was punched off the old-fashioned safe in the last premises. Thieves helped themselves to some ice cream and sherbet before leaving."

Both Mr. Harvey and Mr. Gardner had been robbed before, in the first instance "back in the 30's." I don't remember what was taken," Mr. Gardner was burgled six years ago and lost about $1,000.

THIEVES EXPERTS

First of the robberies and break-ins was discovered Sunday, about 9 a.m., when an employee opened the drug store to do some cleaning.

"The thieves knew their business," said Constable G. W. King, RCMP, of the Sidney detachment. "It was obviously a crookbar or crowbars used."

"It is certainly the biggest robbery, and unique of its kind for Sidney," he said. Constable King has been there 18 months.

RCMP officials from Victoria today are assisting in the investigation.

THIS SIGN in the door of Bernard Shaw's dress shop in Sidney is prophetic, as store manager Mrs. Muriel Tuttle realized Sunday. Burglars didn't wait until opening time and ignored the bargains. They missed receipts totalling around $500 hidden in the store, which would have been an added bargain. —(Times photo)

$28,000 Needed For Chest Drive

Morning mail brought $1,038 to Community Chest headquarters at Spencerhouse today.

With three days to go in the chest's "Let's finish the job" week, the campaign total is $209,720. Another $28,000 is needed to keep the 20-member agencies operating in 1958.

"The response over the weekend was very heartwarming," campaign chairman H. L. Alexander said. "People who had been planning to send donations were obviously spurred to action by last week's appeal."

Growers to Discuss Threat Of Dumped Japanese Bulbs

Dumping of Japanese bulbs on the Canadian market—a serious threat to B.C.'s bulb industry—will be discussed by some 70 growers from all parts of the province at the annual two-day convention of the B.C. Bulb Growers' Federation Friday.

The convention will be held at Loughheed's Banquet Club, 1406 Douglas Street.

Growers are concerned with the import of bulbs from Japan which they claim will wreck B.C.'s bulb industry unless some tariff protection is granted to growers in the province.

The $1,500,000 industry has suffered serious setbacks since 1947 due to Japanese imports. Ted Sabels, manager of the Puget Sound Bulb Exchange, will open the discussion on the "menace of bulb imports from Japan."

Guest speaker will be Dr. Karl Baur of Portland, Ore., a leading U.S. authority on soils and plant nutrition.

Other speakers will include

On Etiquette

Auntie wants to invade small apartment.

My husband and I live in a tiny apartment with only one bedroom. An aunt of mine wants to visit us, a n-d, although I have told her that I cannot put her up, she assures me that she will be glad to sleep on the davenport in the living room. Should she be offended if I refuse to serve a room for her in a nearby motel? We would both welcome her gladly if we could do it that way.

Louise Davis answers: You have stated your case to your aunt that you cannot manage to accommodate her conveniently in your little apartment. She apparently is anxious to come anyway, but should not have imposed her will on you to that extent. Such a visit, including sleeping on a davenport, is a lark to her, but apparently it hasn't occurred to her that it would be no lark for you. Sleeping on a davenport in the living room is a pretty makeshift proposition which can be all right in an emergency, but disconcerting for you. Having a guest under foot can be very inconvenient when trying to get household chores done, even in a little apartment. It certainly shouldn't offend your aunt if you reserve a room in a nearby motel. I am sure that all of you would enjoy the visit much more and just as sure that your aunt would admit it. Commuting from motel to your apartment is much less trouble than being crowded 24 hours a day in cramped quarters.

Glass Caddy Saves Many An Embarrassing Spill!

By PENNY SAVER

Is there anything more precarious than serving drinks at a party? I certainly found there wasn't when last weekend I loaded a tray with six glasses and trotted into the living room only to spill four glasses on the floor! Embarrassing? You bet! A nuisance too.

That's why I was quite pepped up when, on my trip to town today, I found the latest in hostess aids.

It's a glass caddy; complete with six glasses. Separate racks hold each glass in position. You'd have to turn it upside down to get the glasses out; There are two types. One has the tray of glass holders and the other a tray with glasses on each side of a large tray. Wonderful for television snacks and informal parties at this festive season. Price is $3.25.

It's almost impossible to keep floors from being scratched when you've got "rocking and rolling" teenagers around the house. If they take their shoes off slippers could make things unpleasant and Mother might have to spend her time removing tiny pieces of wood from the guests' feet. All around it's not much fun.

But guess what I have found... a dandy pair of sock slippers today that will prevent these dances from developing such drastic situations. If the teenagers will pull these colorful and soft little stretch slippers on before they dance, there will be no splinters and no tears!

Come in all colors of the rainbow in one size that fits any foot at 79 cents a pair.

WHY GROW OLD?

Perfectionist in Make-Up Grooming, Is Miss Dietrich

I asked Max Factor, adviser to Hollywood stars, to give me a few of his observations concerning beautiful Marlene Dietrich. We all can learn from them. Mr. Factor said:

1. "Marlene is a perfectionist. Regardless of how many times some women are told that beauty and glamour are composed almost entirely of faultless grooming and cleanliness, they never learn. Marlene didn't have to be told. She knew! When this glamorous woman is preparing for a picture she spends three months getting her clothing and make-up ready for two weeks work."

(We can't all do that but most of us could improve our grooming and give more thought to the details of our wardrobes than we do.)

2. "Her coiffures are perfect. Even though Miss Dietrich has excellently textured and beautiful hair herself, she often wears wigs which duplicate her hair exactly so that her motion pictures will be right in every detail. In real life, she has her hair shampooed and set every few days so that she never has that 'almost-ready-for-the-beauty-shop' look which so many women have."

3. "She never steps out of her boudoir until her make-up is flawless. Furthermore, it is applied so perfectly and naturally that few people have ever seen her in the unflattering process of touch-ups. She is so meticulous with her make-up technique and application that it lasts for hours."

4. "Costumes and make-up always agree," says Factor. "If Miss Dietrich steps into the Hollywood salon in slacks in the morning, her make-up is far different from that you will find her wearing at a Hollywood premiere. Likewise when she comes into the salon in the late afternoon, added touches of glamour accompany her dress. She has this knowledge because she has studied her beauty with care."

5. "Every stitch of clothing Marlene wears becomes the costume. There are no mismatches in her wardrobe. Whether she is wearing a casual dress, slacks, or a beautiful evening gown, her shoes, gloves, headpiece and wraps are color co-ordinated. She claims that she had rather have one complete costume in her wardrobe than a dozen which are incomplete. She says that when women say they have nothing to wear it is because they have no clothes which are completely co-ordinated to wear together."

(Even on a moderate budget, a woman can correlate her accessories and costumes.)

Double Rings Given in Saturday Wedding in Church of Our Lord

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery decorated the Church of Our Lord for the double ring ceremony on Saturday evening in which Daphne Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hale, 1692 Earle Street, Victoria, and Roy Arthur, son of Mrs. E. O. Head, of New Westminster, exchanged vows.

Bishop D. A. G. Rankin performed the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon over heavy satin. The full skirt had a front inset of pleated nylon net and an embroidered panel reaching to the hem. The bodice featured an off-shoulder neckline with a net yoke and long sleeves.

A band of net trimmed with seed pearls held the veil of net with a lace border. The cascade bouquet was of red roses and Stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father.

Ballerina length gowns of champagne and blue respectively with crinoline skirts featuring tiers of lace were worn by bridesmaids Mrs. Thomas Hale and bridesmaid Miss Gloria McKay. The strapless bodices were edged with taffeta folds extending to large bows at the back with floating streamers to hemline.

They wore matching net stoles and flowered headresses with tiny rhinestone studded face veils. Both attendants carried bouquets of feathered chrysanthemums in a copper tone.

Cousin of the bride, little Susan Mutter wore a pink dotted nylon frock and a matching pink headband. Her colonial bouquet was of tiny pink rosebuds.

Harold Heid was best man and ushering were Thomas Hale and Edward Hensley.

Tall white candles and white chrysanthemums decorated the bridal table at a reception in the Georgian Room at the Empress Hotel.

Mothers of the couple assisted in receiving guests. Mrs. Hale wearing a light rose-toned lace dress with model hat of rose beige taffeta net trimmed with roses, and Mrs. Head wearing a light brown ensemble.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Head cut a three-tier wedding cake. The bride's godfather, H. Yates Aylmer, proposed the toast.

An imported suit of beige wool was worn by the bride for her honeymoon trip to Washington State. A small beige Melusine hat and brown accessories completed her ensemble which was topped with a brown coat trimmed with mink. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Head will live in Vancouver.

Elegance Is the Word After Dark

Great luxury and elegance are typical of late-day clothes this social season. And fitting sleekly into this fashion scheme is silk in its many forms.

The warp print and the appearance of silk satin in leading designer collections are just two of the exciting silk fashion stories.

Color news rates an importance equal to that of fabric. Silk shimmers and glows in rich jewel tones, and of these jewel shades, emerald green emerges as the important new color for wear after dark.

The silken look appears here in three outstanding silhouettes featuring emerald green for day and evening.

A scissor-skirted dress of emerald green silk satin designed by Karen Stark for Harvey Berin. The molded bodice has a surprise effect and dips low in the back.

The winter blooming print in warp-printed antique silk taffeta is a beauty by Jane Derby. Setting off the waist-dipping bodice, tiered puffs are gathered in under front hip draping. The last tier forms a brief panel train.

Couple Wed at Oak Bay To Make Home in Trenton

Oak Bay United Church was scene of a wedding, late Saturday afternoon, between Mary Anne Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johnson, 2469 Foul Bay Road, and Wendell Keir Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bernard, Trenton, Ont.

Rev. Alexander Calder conducted the service in a setting of pastel-toned chrysanthemums.

A gown of white Chantilly lace in ballerina length was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Satin panels floated from the back. A tiara of sequins held her veil and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Sister of the bride, Miss Patricia Johnson, wore a net over taffeta gown of blue in ballerina length. She wore a matching headress and carried a bouquet of pink beehive chrysanthemums.

Organist was Frank Statham. K. B. Bernard was best man and H. T. Johnson was the usher.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where toast to the bride was proposed by H. Keast.

For motoring on honeymoon to Trenton, Ont., where she and her husband will make their home, the bride wore a brown wool sheath dress with green accessories and brown topcoat.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. D. Johnson and the late Lt. Cdr. Johnson of Victoria.

On Hands, Knees For Health

CALGARY (CP)—A fitness expert has this advice for housewives who aim at top physical condition—get down on hands and knees and scrub the kitchen floor.

This advice comes from Dr. Doris Plewes, fitness consultant for the federal health and welfare department, now on a cross-Canada tour testing physical fitness of Canadians. She is disappointed that more adults, particularly women, don't take the fitness tests.

Many women who take exercise courses in clinics could achieve the same result by doing their own housework.

"Some of the best exercises for women are done on the hands and knees, and utilize floor-scrubbing motions," she says.

she had completed more than one-third of the project. When she returns to Oslo, she plans to become a ship reporter.

"I find it a great adventure," she said, "but some things are depressing. I never seem to have a thing to wear when I arrive at a new place. I tried to pack for every type of weather and as a result I'm not prepared for any."

Miss Lie's work cuts down her time for sightseeing, but she said "It's the only way I could manage the trip. If I had to save for it, I'd be too old to travel by the time I had enough money."

To start the journey, Miss Lie flew to London from Oslo and joined a Norwegian cargo ship as a stewardess. She wrote several stories while crossing the Atlantic en route to Montreal.

She planned to board another vessel in New York and sail through the Panama Canal to San Francisco and later across the Pacific to Japan, China, India and Ceylon.

From Ceylon, she leaves for home through the Suez Canal on another vessel.

Fire Wipes Out Aussie Town

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Fierce bush fires, whipped by gale-force winds, today destroyed the town of Leura, 60 miles west of here and threatened to wipe out nearby Wentworth Falls.

Women and children standing outside Leura wept as their homes were razed. Fire fighters fought vainly to save the town's 80 houses, the school, the parish church and several stores.

Police declared a state of emergency in the Blue Mountains area, where bush fires have been raging for the last two weeks.

At Wentworth Falls, the advancing wall of fire destroyed a gasoline station and four houses.

Christopher Kelly, chief secretary of the New South Wales state government, said the destruction "is the worst bush fire tragedy in our history."

First reports indicated no loss of life.

New or used toys will be welcomed, an Army official said today, "and we need lots of them."

DIGESTING 'LIGHT' MEAL NO PROBLEM TO PATIENT

PAISLEY, Scotland (AP) — An X-ray here disclosed that Miss Spence, 25, contains the bulb, reflector and battery of flashlight.

Miss Spence acquired these accessories during a visit to her doctor for treatment of a sore throat. "Open wide," said the doctor, and he lighted up the inflamed area with his pencil-sized torch.

When the doctor straightened up all he had in his hand was the light's empty casing. The rest of it dropped into Miss Spence's stomach.

Miss Spence said she felt no discomfort. The doctor said he will let nature take its course.

British Probe Opens On 'Leakage' Charge

LONDON (Reuters)—An official inquiry opened today into reports of a leakage of secret government financial information which allegedly brought a number of speculators a large stock market profit last September.

A legal tribunal will attempt to find out whether persons outside the government were tipped in advance last Sept. 18 that the government was going to raise its bank rate the next day. The rate went up to 7 per cent from 5.

The afternoon before the rate was raised, from £4,000,000 to £10,000,000 worth of government securities were sold on the British market.

In the Commons, Labor members said "fortunes" were made by speculators with the leaked information.

After twice refusing an investigation, Prime Minister Macmillan changed his mind Nov. 13 and ordered the investigation.

Rescued were Ralph Stewart and Tony Kozak, his brother-in-law. Stewart was later reported seriously ill in hospital from extreme exposure, while Kozak was in fair condition.

Kozak told rescuers he held the unconscious Stewart above water for the last hour of their ordeal, when their punt overturned in choppy water.

CANADA NO CHORE BOY, SILENT PARTNER—CROLL

DETROIT (CP)—Canada is no longer content to remain a "silent partner" with the United States or a "chore boy" for Great Britain, Senator David Croll said here Sunday night.

Senator Croll, guest speaker at the centennial banquet of Pisagah Lodge No. 34, B'nai B'rith, said: "Canada does not mind being a junior partner, but does not want to be ignored. I think we made that quite clear during the Suez crisis when we went our own way. The Communists refer to Canada as a satellite of the United States, but we have no fear of being dominated."

Scholar's Work Call Booed by Boy Scouts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Mortimer Adler, scholar and philosopher, met with boos and hisses Friday when he suggested to some 500 San Francisco Boy Scouts that they increase their homework to help the United States catch up with Russia on the education front.

Dr. Adler told the Explorer Scouts, aged 14 to 17: "The future of our country depends on your learning more than what the schools now require. A serious deficiency in the schools is that you're not given enough homework."

This brought lusty boos and hisses. "I would," he said, "expect a sound amount of school work would mean four to five hours of home study a day."

This brought more boos and hisses, but also scattered applause. He continued: "I didn't intend to make you angry, but you are no longer children."

"We expect a lot of you and you ought to expect a lot of yourself."

Retirement Of Jenner Rocks GOP

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Sen. William E. Jenner, of Indiana, stunned his state Republican party late Saturday by announcing he will not run for re-election next year.

The veteran, influential Republican made his bombshell announcement through State Chairman Robert W. Matthews and was not available for comment.

Jenner, a conservative Republican often at odds with the Eisenhower administration, had been counted on to lead the Republican ticket in the state elections next year.

Lost Art of Walking Given Boost by Hiker

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Harry Moskowitz of Newark, N.J., arrived here Saturday with tired feet and a broad smile at the end of a 100-mile hike to draw attention to the lost art of walking.

Moskowitz, a 50-year-old school teacher, set out from Newark Wednesday and arrived in nearby Newington Friday night, having spent the other two nights in Greenwich and Bridgeport.

"Walking is a lost art," Moskowitz said. "I'm trying to put the art of walking back where it should be. People are in too much of a hurry these days to take proper care of themselves. The teacher, who has pared off 74 pounds in a year and now is a trim 209, said his pace was slowed by motorists stopping to offer him lifts.

He admitted his wife doesn't care much for walking but said his four children "love it." But his strongest supporter, he reported, is his 86-year-old father, who hikes a mile and a half every day.

Moskowitz plans to take a train back to Newark. Not that he's tired, he explained, but he promised his children he'd spend the day with them—and perhaps go for a walk.

'CALX' CRUX OF SCRIMMAGE

'No Goal' But Tradition Scores In Historic Eton 'Wall Game'

LONDON (AP)—Word has trickled out from Eton today that the annual Wall Game has been played. As usual, nobody got the ball into the calx, good or bad.

The result was thus in keeping with tradition, as no goal has been scored in the Eton Wall Game since 1909.

The Wall Game, peculiar to Eton—and peculiar is the word—is played each year between two 11-man teams known as the Collegers and Oppidians.

The object of the game is to work the ball along a wall with the feet into one of two goals. The goals are known as "good calx" and "bad calx." Nobody knows why.

To start off the game five players of each team get into a scrummaging tangle known as a "bully" and the ball is thrown among them. The other players take up strategic positions outside the scrummage.

Connoisseurs found this year's game unusually exciting because at one point a camera fell into the scrummage, followed by the would-be photographer, who lost his footing on top of the wall. When the game ended Collegers were within two yards of their goal—bad calx—and were generally credited with a great moral victory.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Earl Allen, aged 10, of Boise, Idaho, for his question:

Where Is the Petrified Forest?

The famous petrified forests of Arizona form part of the Painted Desert. There are six of them. Petrified logs and tree stumps are strewn over the areas. One massive tree trunk spans a gully 20 feet deep. It is called Agate Bridge, a log four feet in diameter and 100 feet long. Through the ages, this ancient tree has been turned into semi-precious stone.

However, the people of Boise do not have to travel to Arizona to find a petrified forest. There is one at Vantage on U.S. Route 10, about halfway between Spokane and Seattle, Washington. It covers almost 6,000 acres of the dark lava beds around the Columbia River. It is small, compared with the 85,000 acres of the Arizona petrified forests. But it has the greatest variety of petrified woods. It is called the Ginkgo Petrified Forest because there, and only there, we find ancient ginkgo trees now turned to opal.

Region of Lush Plant Life

The Ginkgo Petrified Forest is in a grim region where dark cliffs and canyons dip down to the Columbia River. But 60 to 100 million years ago, this was a region of lush plant life. The area was much lower and the climate was very warm. There were beeches and birches, locust trees and giant redwoods. There were cedars and ginkgo trees. The green leaves captured the sunshine and used it to build wood, just as green leaves do today.

The ancient forest thrived until the earth began to change. The old world began to hump up her back in this region. The mighty Rockies were being formed. Great upheavals happened in the earth's crust. There was chafing, and friction below. Pockets of magma, or molten rock, found cracks and vents to the surface. Lava poured forth over the land.

In time, this lava covered an area of 200,000 square miles. In some places the surface was buried under 5,000 feet of cooling lava. The ancient ginkgo forest was covered in this upheaval.

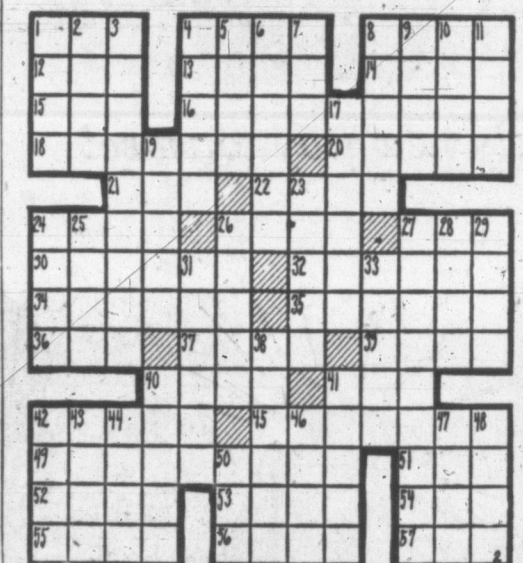

Rain and melting snows seeped through the lava beds. The greedy little tongues of water dissolved chemicals, especially the element silica from the rocks. It seeped into the buried logs, dissolving the woody tissues. But as the wood was dissolved, chemicals were left behind to replace it, atom for atom. Through countless years, the wood was replaced with a perfect copy of stone—it was petrified.

There is a wonderful museum at the Ginkgo Petrified Forest. Over 2,500 samples of petrified woods have been polished to show their beauty. You can buy samples for your rock collection. Andy has many samples from this museum, and among them is a piece of ancient ginkgo wood, now turned to gleaming opal.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Sharon Ann Fletcher, age 9, of Brevard, North Carolina, for her question:

Which is the Dog Star? The Dog Star is Sirius, the brightest star ever seen from our earth. It is part of the winter constellation Canis Major, which means Big Dog. Big Dog and Little Dog are two fairly small constellations which follow Orion, the Hunter, over the sky.

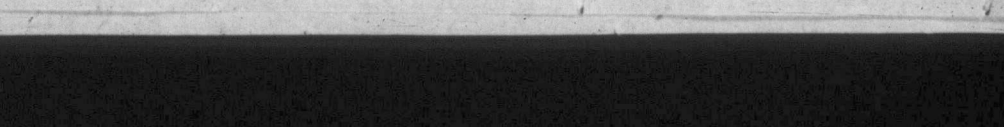

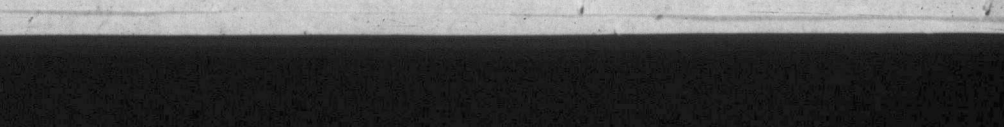

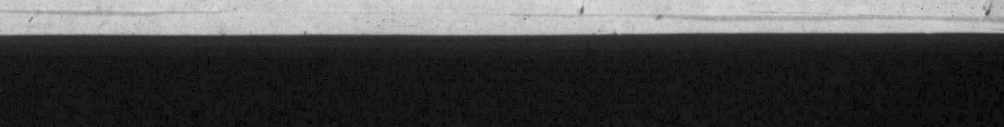

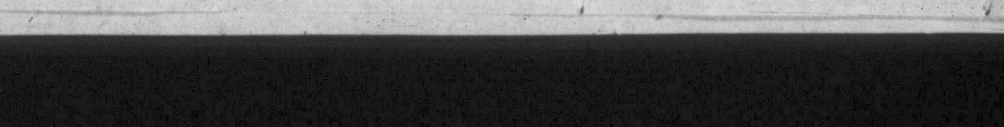

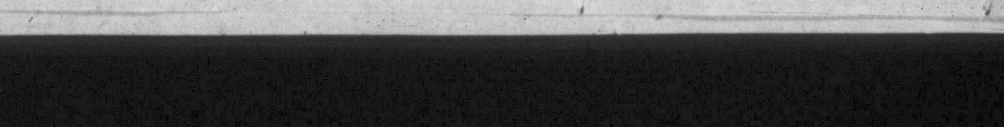

Orion is easy to find in the night sky. There are three close stars in the Hunter's belt, a brilliant star way above and another way below. This dazzling constellation moves with the heavenly parade from east to west over the night sky. The heavenly Hunter is chasing the constellation Taurus the Bull. At his heels follow his faithful dogs. Big Dog is to the east and slightly south of Orion. Sirius, the Dog Star, you cannot miss. It glitters there like a sparkling carbuncle.

Young Canadian High on List Of Tomorrow's Stars in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—Movie producer Sir Michael Balcon includes Canadian actor Paul Massie among a group of 11 determined young actors and actresses that he lists as stars of tomorrow.

Massie, 25, lines up with nine Britons and a Tasmanian, aged 17 to 29. He has just completed a leading role in Anthony Asquith's Orders to Kill.

Sir Michael is giving the 11 hopefuls special grooming for stardom. He says they will not be seen on the screen until they have proved themselves worthy and won't have any publicity before they make good.

A contract clause prevents them settling abroad permanently, to ensure they will not be lost to British films, and was among those chiefly responsible for the hit comedy films produced by Ealing Studios in the post-war years.

Massie—real name Arthur Masse—is the son of a Baptist preacher. Born in St. Catharines, Ont., he has worked in repertory in Ottawa and as a truck driver in Toronto.

The minesweeper will be commissioned at Yarrow, B.C., on December 12, as the fourth ship of the navy's Second Canadian Minesweeping Squadron.

The Cowichan will conduct firing exercises again December 16, from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m.

'FROG-VOICED' COMEDIAN DIES

LONDON (Reuters)—Leslie Henson, 66, goggle-eyed, frog-voiced British comedian who kept audiences laughing for 47 years, died today.

Henson—still rehearsing for stage and television shows after two heart attacks—collapsed at his home in Middlesex.

He was to appear next Friday in a television serial and was rehearsing a part for the traditional British Christmas pantomime Aladdin.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

Cellist Scores With Orchestra

By AUDREY S.D. JOHNSON

After a highly successful premiere of the program at Duncan, Friday night, Victoria Symphony Orchestra with world-famed cellist Zara Nelsova as guest artist, played at the Royal Theatre Sunday.

It was a performance that combined interest, charm, beauty and brilliance to an unusually high degree.

To begin with there was the Royal Fireworks Music, Handel's happy, festive dance suite, done by Hans Gruber and the orchestra with a precision of detail and polished perfection of phrase that in no way hampered its lilting vivacity.

And at the end came Brahms' Academic Festival Overture in a flavorful performance that had the hearty zest of German beer.

In between, the nearly matchless Nelsova imposed a rich embroidery of cello virtuosity on the substantial symphonic background of Ernest Bloch's "Schelomo."

The haunting profundity of this Hebraic rhapsody was given a handsomely colored and worthy treatment by both soloist and orchestra.

POETIC INSIGHT

Nelsova's famed luminosity of tone and remarkably articulate fingering were highlighted by demands of the composition. And also strongly in evidence was her poetic insight, warmth and intellectual perceptiveness.

It is, of course, this combination of factors that have caused her to be acclaimed as one of the world's few great cellists. She is in addition, an artist with a vivid personality compounded of imagination and vitality, qualities which, in themselves can charm an audience out of its seats.

Soloists among the orchestra personnel were in the spotlight from time to time, particularly in the wind section. They, and the whole orchestra indeed, presented Nelsova with a most competent partnership.

Haydn's Violoncello Concerto in D Major was a contrast in mood and served to underscore the already established brilliance and versatility of the soloist as well as the musical strength and sensitivity of conductor Gruber.

The concert will be repeated tonight at 8.30.

British Critics Praise Canadians

LONDON (CP)—Two Canadian musicians received a measure of critical praise for week-end performances in London concert halls.

Steven Staryk, of Toronto, concert master of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, appeared as soloist in the Paganini violin concerto in a performance described by The Daily Telegraph as "in the virtuosic class."

Edmonton pianist Geraldine Mason, performing chamber music with British cellist Pauline Sadgrove, is described by The Times as "a musicianly pianist with a genuine flair for chamber performance."

The Times also commends Staryk's energetic playing and adds that observers have noted a new vitality in the Royal Philharmonic's string section, since he took over as concert master a year ago.

Taboos Kill Comedians, Says Buttons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red Buttons, who has been trying all his life to make people laugh, said Saturday all the fun has gone out of it because of taboos. Now he's trying to make people cry.

Two years after his comet-like rise and fall as a television comic, Buttons is no longer bitter. He has embarked on a new career as a serious dramatic actor in the movies.

"Television eats up comedians, but the trouble with humor in the world today goes beyond that," Buttons said as he contemplated remains of one career and the prospects of a new one.

He was in town to plug his first movie, "Sayonara." It stars Marion Brando and is as much a color travelogue of Japan as it is a tender love story about occupation GIs and the Japanese girls they fall in love with.

35,000 Thirst In E. Africa

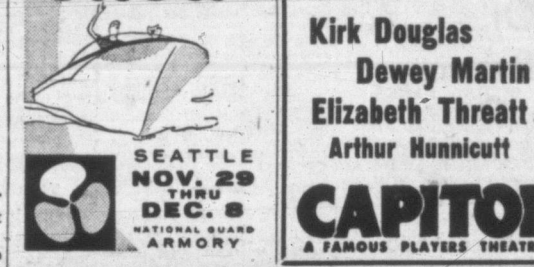

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Reports from Quelimane, Portuguese East Africa, say the 35,000 inhabitants of the city are water starved because of a long drought. Ships in port are supplying the city all the water they can until other supplies from Beira and the hinterland arrive.

SOMMERS CASE PROSECUTOR TO SEE BONNER

VANCOUVER (CP)—City Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said today he still intends seeing Attorney-General Robert Bonner about the Sommers bribery conspiracy case.

The attorney-general last week said he could see no reason why Mr. McMorran would have to confer with him on the case, and that it was up to the city prosecutor's office to proceed without further advice.

However, Mr. McMorran said he will see Mr. Bonner about the case, "and he'll know why when I see him."

Asked when he would see attorney-general, Mr. McMorran replied: "When I intend to see him is nobody's business but mine and his."

Anti-Dutch Fever Grips Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuters)—The Indonesian government today launched an all-out campaign aimed at harassing the Netherlands into turning over control of Dutch New Guinea.

Indonesians employed by Dutch firms—acting on government orders—launched a 24-hour strike against their employers. The government also barred planes of the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines from landing here and banned circulation of all Dutch-language publications.

The move came as the government clamped a tight censorship on news of the attempted assassination Saturday night of President Sukarno.

TEN KILLED
Ten persons were killed and 137 kept in hospital for treatment of shrapnel wounds after assassins hurled hand grenades into a crowd around the president, a government announcement said Sunday.

Seven persons, including two small children, were killed outright. Sukarno was saved by his bodyguards, who threw him to the ground and covered him with their bodies.

Travellers from Indonesia reported strong army guards have been posted around government buildings and the radio station in Jakarta in case the attempted assassination was the beginning of a rebellion.

There was speculation in Singapore that the attack might have been made by the fanatic Darul Islam movement, which has fought the government since Indonesia won its independence from the Dutch in 1949.

DUTCH ISOLATED
Meanwhile, many Dutch residences in Jakarta, including the Netherlands diplomatic mission, had their gas and water supplies shut off as part of the anti-Dutch campaign.

Fleming Warns U.S. On Tariff Policies

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (BUP)—Canadian Finance Minister Donald Fleming today called on the United States government to take serious account of the heavy imbalance of trade between the two countries.

"We should like to see the United States administration and Congress take serious account of the heavy imbalance of the trade between these two countries and also of the way in which United States tariff policies are excluding Canadian finished products from the U.S. market," Fleming said.

In an address—which he initiated as being of "utmost frankness"—to the annual meeting of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, Fleming argued that the United States should modify policies which impede Canadian sales.

"Canada's purchases from the U.S. in a considerable measure comprise finished manufactured goods," he said.

"The failure of the U.S. tariff, however, not unlike others, is such as to discourage the importation of finished products."

"We are not content merely to dig these materials out of our soil for export to other countries to be prefabricated there into finished products, many of which we are then invited to buy back."

"CHRONIC CONDITION"
Fleming also spoke of long-standing weaknesses in Canada's trading position resulting in this "chronic condition" of imbalance.

Fleming said more than 60 per cent of Canada's exports

OTTAWA (CP)—Naval headquarters announced today new appointments for six naval officers to take effect early next year.

Capt. William M. Landy, more, 41, of Brantford, Ont., and Ottawa, has been appointed in command of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure effective Jan. 17.

He succeeds Capt. Harold V. W. Groos, 45, of Victoria and Halifax, who has commanded the ship since she was commissioned. Capt. Groos, who will hold the acting rank of commodore, will become commander of the RCN barracks and commanding officer of the Naden shore base at Esquimalt, B.C.

Commodore Patrick D. Budge, 53, of Victoria, will move from the Pacific Coast city to become chief of staff to the flag officer, Atlantic coast, March 3.

Capt. Howard L. Quinn, 47, of Vancouver and Halifax, chief of staff since November, 1955, will become commanding officer of the destroyer escort St. Laurent. He also will serve as captain of the 3rd Canadian Escort Squadron.

He succeeds Capt. Angus G. Boulton, 46, of Winnipeg and Halifax, who will become assistant chief of the naval staff and a member of the naval board. He will hold the acting rank of commodore while holding the appointment.

Commodore Duncan L. Raymond, 53, of Ottawa, whom he succeeds, has been appointed in command of the Stadacona and as commodore of the naval barracks at Halifax.

Beck Trial Opens

SEATTLE (AP)—Dave Beck, a labor tycoon who built his personal wealth to more than a million, went on trial today to answer charges that he became sticky-fingered with $1,900 of his union's money. He was accused of pocketing $1,900 from the sale of a teamster-owned 1952 Cadillac instead of turning it over to the union.

John D. Hints Tax Changes

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today the government plans to present no formal budget this session. He made the statement in the Commons after listing, among further legislation planned for the session, "one or two" tax measures.

Safety Week Opening Marred by 40 Deaths

A substantial reduction in traffic deaths during the weekend marked the opening of National Safe Driving Week in Canada.

Twenty traffic fatalities were among the 40 accidental deaths counted by The Canadian Press between 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Sunday.

Later, he hinted that one of the changes may involve the income tax. He said:

"Insofar as income taxes are concerned, those changes could be made by motion."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that because few changes will be made—apparently referring to tax changes—and because this is the second session this year, with limited time available, "we feel that a formal budget is not necessary at the present time."

Man Who 'Tripped' Tiger-Cat Still Unidentified Says CRU

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Rugby Union can't positively identify the man who tripped Hamilton Tiger-Cats' Bibbles Bawel in Saturday's Grey Cup final won by Hamilton over Winnipeg, 32-7, and "no action can be taken," CRU president Don Downey said in an interview today.

"It was a very unfortunate incident and the CRU is perturbed about it, but there is nothing we can do about it, now," he added.

"We can't lay charges. Sure some people have told us he is so-and-so, but we can't positively identify the man."

The incident occurred in the fourth quarter as Bawel was touchdown bound after intercepting a Winnipeg Bide Bombers pass. The spectator was standing at the sidelines and stuck out a foot as Bawel was racing by. Police nearby took no action.

Police Inspector George Russell, standing nearby

when the incident occurred in front of the Bombers bench, said the Winnipeg players closed around the man and "hustled him off before I could get to him."

"I don't know whether they were protecting him or trying to get rid of him," he added. "It all happened so quickly."

Bawel said he thought at first it was one of the Winnipeg players who had tripped him but as he stormed back several people pointed out the fan.

"I don't remember what I did," Bawel said. "I was so mad. I think I grabbed him by the coat and started to shake him. Then I lost my grip and when I couldn't find him in all the crowd I just went back on the field...."

"I'm not mad at the fan now. It doesn't matter. We won the cup."

13-18 Age Group Worst Offenders

Immediate establishment of a unified Greater Victoria family and juvenile court was called for today by a special local committee investigating the juvenile delinquency problem.

The recommendation was one of a number made after a 10-month study by the juvenile delinquency committee of the Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council.

The report, submitted to the Council, said the court should be modelled after the successful Vancouver juvenile court.

The committee found that "wasteful duplication and confusion" arises from the present court system here under separate administrations and varying policies.

It urged that an over-all authority be set up, and noted that since Greater Vancouver Family and Juvenile Court was created the per capita rate of committals to industrial schools from the Vancouver area has been only 50 per cent of that from the Victoria area.

The committee found no evidence that this district is experiencing a juvenile crime wave "of alarming or unprecedented proportions."

"It has, however, seen and heard enough to bring conviction that there is considerable delinquency among young people, especially in the 13 to 18 age group, quite sufficient to form a sound basis for serious concern on the part of every parent and citizen."

Many Changes Said 'Long Overdue'

"There seems little doubt," the report said, "that many changes in the various methods of dealing with the problems of young people are long overdue."

The committee stressed the need for more and better trained personnel to deal with delinquents.

"It is unlikely that any great change for the better can be expected until the community in general recognizes the urgent need for improved and more adequate help in these fields, and expresses that recognition in terms of greatly improved wages and salaries for those who work there."

The committee recommended that the work of juvenile officers and probation officers be split.

No individual should be expected to do both jobs because they are basically incompatible, the report said.

Expansion of the probation service would make a valuable contribution in terms of prevention.

The committee said anti-social behavior tendencies or attitudes by individuals or groups of juveniles should be investigated by probation officers, who would seek effective corrective measures.

Downtown Victoria Crowd Scored

Members were particularly concerned with "the very objectionable behavior" of groups of juveniles who congregate in the downtown district of Victoria.

are needed to control the situation, and added there has been a "regrettable lack of public understanding or co-operation" on the problem.

T-BRICKS FOR KOREA

Malnutrition, Cold Faced by 10,000

Winter holds Korea in an icy grip today.

And today 10,000 Korean orphans are shuddering against the cold as they beg for food on the snow-swept streets of Seoul.

Many already have tuberculosis. For the others, it is just a matter of time. They have two strikes against them now—malnutrition and cold.

But with Victorians pitching, they could get to first base. This is how we can help. We can buy bricks—one for 10c, 100 for $10—to build a TB outpatients' pavilion right in the middle of the city's most terrible slum.

Children's Tuberculosis Hospital will provide beds for 40 TB victims.

It will give help, by home visiting teams, to thousands of other tubercular children and adults.

It may save the life of some child who today has nowhere to turn but to the streets. The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund has mounted to $1,830. In 24 days we must bring that sum to $12,000—the cost of a modern, scientific pavilion.

With a donation of $10, Capt. P. E. Haddon, HMC Dockyard, enclosed this note, "I trust that all citizens of Victoria will feel it in their hearts to support this noble drive...."

His words mean this. You can help—will you? See list of donors page 27.

Eight Civic Candidates Elected by Acclamation

Eight candidates for civic office were elected by acclamation in three Greater Victoria Municipalities today, as nominations closed.

Reeve F. E. Norris was returned in Oak Bay for a third two-year term. School trustee W. C. Gelling was re-elected to a second school board term.

Rural Saanich school trustee Frederick Philip Jeune, was elected uncontested to a further two-year term.

In Central Saanich, there will be no election. All candidates, four for council and one for school board, were elected by acclamation.

There were three last-day entries in the election race—John H. Ford and Gordon T. Schenck both came out for the one-year school board vacancy in Oak Bay, and naturopath Ronald Grant, a former Saanich councillor, filed papers for another try at that office.

Nominations closed at noon in Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Central Saanich and Saanich. They are still acceptable in Victoria until 2 p.m. Thursday.

A contest for council in Victoria was assured Saturday with the announcement of a fifth candidate for four council seats. No one has come forward to run against Mayor Percy Scourah and his election Thursday by acclamation appears assured.

NEWCOMER
The new council candidate is Mrs. W. W. Spilly Rogers, 42 South Turner Street, sponsored by Victoria Ratepayers' Association. A Victoria resident since 1942 she was defeated in an attempt for council nine years ago. Here is the Greater Victoria election picture at this time:

7 Candidates Seek Election in Sidney

Closing of nominations for municipal office at noon today showed that the village of Sidney will have the liveliest election of the lower island.

Dr. C. H. Hemmings and George L. Baal will contest chairmanship, and the following will seek election to two vacant seats on the board of commissioners: Commissioner Joseph Bilgeri, Harold Fox, J. E. Boshier, Jr., G. William Laird and Herman H. Shade.

Sidney will have no by-laws or referendums.

In North Cowichan Reeve C. A. P. Murison, School District

65 trustees A. G. Cooper and I. G. Loveshet, and School District 67 trustee B. G. Millard all were elected by acclamation.

Four persons contesting two seats on the council are Councillors W. R. McConach and D. C. Morton, and newcomers J. S. Dyke and R. E. Evans.

In Duncan Mayor J. T. Dobson, School District 65 trustee John Homer, and Aldermen John J. Kerrone and Stephen H. Saunders were elected by acclamation.

Voting in Duncan will be confined to a referendum on fluoridation of the city water supply.

Eisenhower Back at Desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower visited his office today for the first time since his cerebral attack a week ago. He presided at the opening of an afternoon cabinet meeting.

Immediately after a motor trip from his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., where he spent the weekend, the recuperating president went to his office, dictated a memorandum to his secretary, Ann Whitman, and made known his intention to sit in on the cabinet session.

Press Secretary James Hagerty, who earlier told reporters that White House physician Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder reported Eisenhower's progress "continues to be excellent," said the president did not intend to stay through the full meeting.

After dictating the memorandum, Hagerty said, Eisenhower went to the White House living quarters for lunch and a short nap.

Hagerty did not disclose the agenda of the cabinet meeting but Vice-President Richard Nixon—who had been prepared to substitute as chairman—told reporters Friday the administration's agriculture and welfare budgets and legislative programs would be discussed.

JUVENILES

"However, it should be clear to everyone, that more adequate policing is not the final answer. "Some effort must be made to get at the underlying cause of such behaviour, and then to plan and carry out the program necessary to eradicate or at least reduce it."

The report also supported recent criticism of facilities at the Cold Harbour Road Juvenile Home.

It recommended that accommodation be extended to allow better security measures and some degree of segregation.

"Security measures, necessary in the cases of some of the more hardened and desperate cases, are totally inadequate."

"It is the opinion of the committee that these conditions place an unfair burden of responsibility on the present superintendent and his wife."

YOUNG OFFENDERS
In many cases, magistrates now are forced to place young offenders in the city jail or send them home on remands because of the lack of accommodation at the home.

Other recommendations of the committee:

1. Appointment by provincial or municipal authorities of an independent commission or agency with full authority to carry on a continuing study of juvenile delinquency.

2. Provision of a full-time trained counsellor service in elementary schools to assist with home problems.

3. More funds be made available for the foster home program.

4. Establishment of an expanded program of correction on a provincial scale which would form a graduated method of treatment to deal with the varying types of young people who are committed by the courts.

5. Use of a standard method of keeping police, court and school records on their handling of juvenile delinquency cases.

6. Investigation of a program of "good family" courses for young married couples.

7. Closer liaison between school authorities and other authorities such as courts, juvenile and probation officers who deal with juvenile delinquents.

8. Education authorities should undertake a study of ways of providing a program to better serve the interests of students who do not profit by the present secondary school curriculum, but who are not mature enough to enter the adult labor field.

9. Revision of the Public School Act to strengthen the hands of principals, inspectors and school boards in discharging incorrigibly objectionable students from school in order to safeguard the interests of other students.

The committee found that there is no shortage of recreational facilities.

"Schools, churches, athletic organizations, service clubs and youth groups such as Scouts, Cadets and a host of others make it possible for any healthy boy or girl to participate in worthwhile recreational activities to his or her heart's content.

"Unfortunately a very large number who could and should be in such activities apparently do not choose to grasp these opportunities."

The report said there is no ready answer to the problem of how to draw juvenile delinquents into these activities.

Conclusions and recommendations of the committee were reached after a study of records from police and courts, schools and vital statistics.

The committee also drew up a set of questions on the juvenile delinquency problem and submitted them to persons trained and experienced in this field.

440 CASES
The committee found that during 1956 there were some 440 cases brought into juvenile courts in the four Greater Victoria municipalities.

Almost 74 per cent of these offences were tried in Victoria, but less than half of those tried in Victoria actually lived in the city.

Of those tried, 11 per cent had from one to three previous convictions. Traffic offences accounted for by far the largest number.

Majority of all offences were committed by boys in the 14-17 age group, with 70 per cent of these in the 16-17 year bracket.

The committee found that most records were incomplete.

"Therefore, while the statistics are of some interest and have a certain significance, they should not be used for the basis of any definite conclusions."

"OVER PROTECTION"

The report said an examination should be made of the possible "over-protection" of juvenile delinquents in the courts under present legislation.

Protection of identity of offenders "can and sometimes does result in large numbers of other young people being exposed to the harmful effects of prolonged association with highly undesirable juvenile offenders."

The committee suggested this subject should be investigated by the legislative committee which Attorney-General Bonner says will be set up at the next session to study juvenile delinquency in British Columbia.

Hurricane Nina Batters Hawaii Routing 1,100

HONOLULU (AP)—Some 1,100 persons were evacuated from the low-lying coastal areas of Kauai today as gale winds of up to 90 miles an hour from Hurricane Nina battered that northernmost of the Hawaiian Islands.

Those evacuated, mostly fishermen and cane field workers living near mouths of swollen rivers, were moved to public schools.

Rivers flooded the towns of Hanalei and Hanalei but there was only slight damage and no casualties were reported. Heavy rains and strong winds continued to batter the island, 85 miles northwest of Oahu, the site of Honolulu.

Two small rivers near Hanalei—the village that took the brunt of a tidal wave last spring—blocked roads as they overflowed. Phone service to the island capital of Lihue was disrupted shortly after midnight.

REOPEN HARBOR
Honolulu harbor was reopened at 5 p.m. Sunday after being closed all day.

Airlines resumed regular flights to the continental United States. Inter-island aircraft that had been grounded resumed flights with added schedules to take care of stranded passengers.

The major hotels were in no danger and surf board riders were out throughout Sunday for some of the best rides of the year.

Nina is the 14th Pacific storm this year. It is called a hurricane, while those storms that strike west of the international dateline are labelled typhoons because of the Asian derivation of the word for such a storm. They are named for women.

Weather bureaus at San Francisco and Honolulu both said they have no records of a hurricane hitting the Hawaiian Islands in the past.

went to America, while on the import side she received 73 per cent from the United States.

"To a disquieting degree Canada has placed her trading eggs in one basket," Fleming said.

"The Canadian economy has to a dangerous degree been made vulnerable to sudden changes in the economic climate of the United States."

A second weakness, he said, was Canada's heavy imbalance in commodity trade. Last year Canada purchased $4.167 million worth of goods from the United States but sent back only $2.819 million.

This he said had brought a "chronic condition of imbalance of trading with the selling advantage resting always with the United States."

Fleming said Canadian farmers had been hurt and were "deeply disturbed" at United States restrictions on dairy imports.

Until a short time ago the United States restricted imports of our barley, malt and oats," he added.

"Now we are faced with the threat of increased tariffs against our zinc and lead."

"Canadians cannot fail to be deeply disturbed at this prospect," Fleming said.

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials, "I would agree to see him if the state of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

The Small Extravagance

CATHERINE came home quite delighted with her small extravagance—a little oval box of wood painted blue and adorned with a bright design.

"It was tucked away on a counter of Christmas stuff," she told her husband. "Just the one. Made in West Germany and only $1. I couldn't resist it."

"What'll you do with it?" he teased. "Your passion for little boxes is developing into a mania."

Catherine laughed. "I don't suppose I'll do anything with it. Except look at it with love, and dust it every now and then."

Carefully, she examined the construction of the box. "Like the Sick Box," she said. "Do you remember the oval scarlet one I had? It was full of little treasures and the children were only allowed to look at them when they were sick in bed."

"I don't remember it," he said.

"Oh darling, it was on the mantelpiece for about 14 years."

"Never noticed it," he said, and Catherine gave a little sigh for the queerness of the masculine mind.

For the scarlet box, until it was broken in the shuffle of house moving, had been very dear to her.

Ruth

regal. Instead they seemed quite ordinary—the Prince in shabby leather shorts, and the Princess dumpy, dowdy, with a naturalness that put an awkward 16-year-old at ease.

Catherine remembered having to make a curtsy and kiss the little hand, and how the talk, turned to wild strawberries in an alpine meadow, and to the chamois shooting in the mountains.

The mountain part was the best part of all, Catherine thought. Not the shooting, which she hated, but the walking, young and strong and free, among the mountains.

Often they walked all day. The morning start was often cold and dark, she remembered. Some days the rain beat down on them until they were soaking to the skin. Some days were hot enough to send the sweat trickling down her body.

But the peaks, she'd never forget the mountain peaks, rosy in the after-sunset glow.

She'd been too young and immature to understand parts of that summer—the rich German industrialist renting the shooting from the impoverished Austrian nobility, the pride of the mountain-bred guides, and their secret appraisal of how the city people would stand up to days of climbing and stalking chamois. But, unconsciously, she'd felt the feudalism of the atmosphere because it was new and strange to her.

She remembered the full skirts and sturdy boots of the village girl who'd been hired to cook for the visitors in the shooting boxes; the sinewy, grizzled strength of the oldest guide; the crouching and the crawling as they stalked; the peering over a rocky ridge to scan the valleys down below.

But it was the walking that was so wonderful, the walking and the altitude and the glorious mountain air.

"It was Heaven," said the Catherine of today, with her thickening waist and greying hair.

"What was Heaven?" asked her husband. "Some of the things this little box reminds me of. A summer in Austria, years ago. Alt-Aussee, the village was. We walked among the mountains."

I know it's not because he's a brilliant scholar. In his school reports you have to check all his subjects, marked "Poor" and "Tries hard," until you get to an "Outstanding." That's the last on the list—Crickets.

I think it must be something appealing about these English "prep" schools which boys attend preparatory to entering public schools. Reason I feel this is that two American boys next door have also been bitten by the I-love-school bug.

When they moved in their mother asked our advice on schools and we said they could do worse than go to Mac's school. And it was interesting to watch their sudden transformation from T-shirt-jeans-and-crowd kids to English schoolboys.

My wife went along when their school uniforms were being bought and they were intrigued with all the so-English garb—grey flannel shorts and shirts, pale blue school cap and matching blazer, Wellingtons (high rubber boots), heavy woolen sports sweater and blue gabardine raincoat.

They so liked the clothes they insisted on wearing everything from the shop, perspiration pouring from them on the hot sunny day.

Starting at school, they were fascinated to find there is no homework except for a bit on weekends. Their sister, put into one of the special American schools here, got homework on the first day and has been up to her neck in it ever since.

But keeping Mac away from school produces the type of outburst you expect from a kid denied a special treat. It goes further. At summer holidays he counts the days until he can get back to school!

I've been pondering this peculiar situation.

Adviser's Role Ending for Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson may end his work as an adviser to the Eisenhower administration on NATO policies this week.

Conceding the end was coming "a little sooner than expected," Stevenson said Sunday night he has no plans to join the U.S. delegation at a Dec. 16-18 meeting of the heads of state of NATO countries, at which closer allied scientific and defensive collaboration will be sought.

But he said he "would certainly consider" any request from the administration that he participate. But he said a Paris trip "hasn't even been discussed."

Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, two weeks ago moved into a state department office to help give a bipartisan approach to NATO planning.

Jodoin-PM Hold Talk On CN Fleet

OTTAWA (CP)—President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress today said, following a 52-minute conference with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, he has the impression the government finds merit in the suggestion the eight-ship Canadian National Steamship fleet be returned to Canadian from Trinidad registry.

"We had an amicable meeting, an exchange of views during which we discussed subject matter pertaining to CNS West Indies Ltd., the labor leader said. "We are meeting again Wednesday or Thursday to reassess the situation in the light of developments."

Mr. Jodoin left the East Block to convene a meeting of the Seafarers' International Union committee handling the strike which began July 4. CNS recently transferred the strike-bound vessels to Trinidad registry, putting them beyond SIU jurisdiction.

Mr. Jodoin said it remains to be settled whether the meeting with the SIU committee will be held here or in Montreal.

"As far as the transfer of registry is concerned," he said, "we will combat it to the limit; it is a matter of the principle involved. These are publicly-owned ships and should be operated by Canadians."

Churchill Earldom Likely

LONDON (AP)—The Laborite Daily Herald says Sir Winston Churchill may accept an earldom after all because of the personal wishes of the Queen.

There has been no indication from Churchill, who was 83 Saturday, that he intends to leave the House of Commons to move to the House of Lords.

The Daily Herald says word has seeped through government quarters that Prime Minister Macmillan has again raised the subject with the man who led Britain to victory in the Second World War.

"It is said that apart from approaches by the prime minister, the Queen would particularly like Sir Winston to accept the honor."

Winston declined an earldom when he resigned as prime minister in early 1955.

"If he now decides to accept it will be because of the Queen's personal wishes."

British monarchs traditionally offer a retiring prime minister an earldom.

Fountain Circle Problem Tackled Again by Council

The civic spotlight shifted in Victoria today from Point Ellice Bridge back to the roundabout at the Hillside-Gorge-Douglas-Government Street six-way intersection.

Council public works chairman, Ald. M. H. Mooney called for an early start on long-delayed renovations to the Fountain Circle at the Hillside-Gorge-Douglas-Government Street six-way intersection.

MONTE ROBERTS

No person can accuse this column of being the wittiest in the whole wide ever-revolving world. Nor the most erudite. Or the most intellectual. Or best written. Or most smoothly polished. Or most controversial. Or least likely to lead to cancellations of subscriptions to the paper.

But by golly darn and gee whizz, no person can deny this column KEEPS YOU INFORMED.

Like as for instance, this column KEPT YOU INFORMED on Friday of last week.

This column, you may recall, informed you C & C taxi company was so named because of the initials of the Christian names of the founders, Messrs. Cecil Rhodes and Cecil Rawlings.

Where but in this space could you BE KEPT INFORMED in such a wonderful way?

But stick around. In the same vein, I intend to KEEP YOU INFORMED about the CPR—as just one example.

The CPR, I am glad to INFORM YOU, was founded by three brothers named Cyril, Percival and Reginald.

And in case you are under any misapprehension regarding the CBC, the initials stand for Crumpets Before Collapsing.

Among other priceless bits of information you are apt to find here in the near future are:

The E & N was named by an early resident who decided the railway was Elegant and Noteworthy.

The WIFU means a governing body which Will Increase Fines Ultimately.

ECER stands for Boys, Curls, Ebb-tide, and Rah-Rah-Rah. You see what I mean?

This column KEEPS YOU INFORMED.

And in this connection I wish to express my thanks to the 27 people who telephoned me on Friday evening, each of whom wished to KEEP ME INFORMED that C & C was named for Cameron and Caldwell, transportation pioneers here in the First World War Days.

The only apology I can make is this:

I goofed.

Possibly due to the influence of being a resident of British Columbia, where all citizens are KEPT INFORMED.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Allan James Horan, no fixed address, was charged in Sidney RCMP court Saturday with break-in and theft of $25 in silver, three shotguns and a high-powered rifle from Sidney Sporting Goods early Thursday. He was remanded without plea to Dec. 9, and is being held in custody.

Cats' Protection League raised almost $400 at its annual tea and bazaar Saturday in the Canadian Legion Hall, Blanshard Street. The money will be put to the shelter building fund and regular league expenses.

The provincial cabinet today proclaimed Thursday, Dec. 26, Boxing Day, a public holiday under the Factories Act.

Newcomer to Victoria, David Michael Jones, 16, has been missing from his home, 3364 Doncaster, since 8.30 a.m. Sunday. Saanich police said today. The youth is described as 5'2" tall, slim, blonde with blue eyes and wearing grey trousers, black shoes, light brown jacket and overcoat.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—What is the value of a Hyderabad mohur?—F.D.B.
This is bankrupt currency today. To a collector, a mohur would be worth about $1.20.

Q.—How did Hardwicke Island come by its name?—C.H.
A.—It was named by Captain Vancouver in 1792 after Philip York, third earl of Hardwicke.

Q.—How did buckwheat get its name?—J.E.
A.—The name comes from a Dutch word, bockweit, or from the German, buckweizen. Both mean "beech wheat" so called because the three-sided seed resembles the beech nut. Flour for buckwheat cakes comes from the seed of the plant.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

But implementation of the scheme was delayed until completion of Point Ellice Bridge. It was felt the improved bridge might have an effect on the traffic using the intersection and new studies were indicated.

"The sooner we get the one-way streets into effect, the better off we'll be," said Ald. Mooney today.

He said the traffic centre would be closely watched for "a week or so," to determine if traffic patterns have been changed by the bridge opening. He felt the changing of Bay Street to a through street for its entire length would also have an effect which should be studied.

Works department reported the new traffic lights for Bay Street at Blanshard, Quadra, Cook and Fernwood have now arrived here. Work on installation is expected to start Thursday or Friday and be completed two weeks later.

NEW STOP SIGNS

All secondary streets intersecting with Bay have already been fitted with stop signs and the stop signs on Bay at Shelbourne are to be removed, with the new stop signs on Shelbourne becoming effective at that point.

"The money for the roundabout renovation is already earmarked and held in a special fund. The work does not represent any increase in next year's spending," the alderman pointed out.

Total of $30,000 was reserved for the job.

Under the scheme, traffic to the roundabout from the downtown area will be one-way south on Government between the roundabout and Princess. Princess will become a cross-over street and will be widened and resurfaced.

Mayor Percy Scourrah thought the project would profit from a wait of "a month or two" while the effect of the bridge and Bay Street traffic is studied.

GUEST SPEAKER at the Christmas banquet of the Victoria Section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, on Tuesday, will be J. L. Olsen, of Canadian General Electric. Mr. Olsen will follow a short talk by M. M. Ewell, Portland, Oregon, at the dinner, commencing at 6.30 p.m., in the Pacific Club. His subject will be "A Current Review of the Atomic Power Business".

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Maurice Lapointe, 990 Tolmie, $35 and licence suspension for careless driving.

Richard Irvine Harten, RCN, $25, and Douglas De Wolfe, 1118 Balmoral, $25, for driving without a licence.

Alan Hockley, 1198 Noble, $15 for failing to stop for school patrol flags.

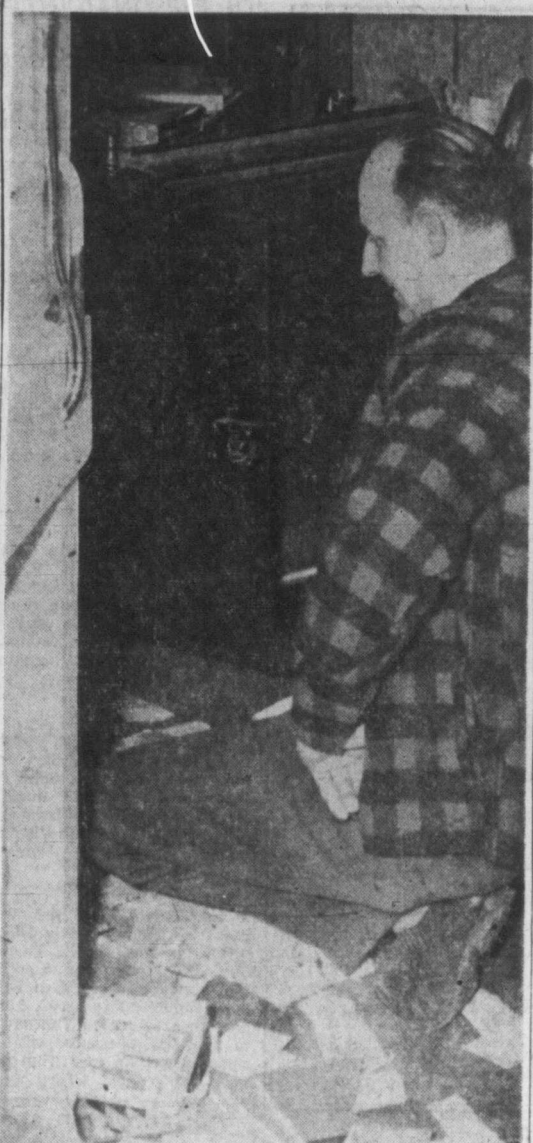

Appointments to local Zoning Appeal Boards throughout the province were approved today by the cabinet.

All are for a three-year period. James Gray, 2985 Rutland, Oak Bay; Charles U. Haywood, 4436 Tyndall, Saanich; John Edward Tanner, Stelly's Cross Road, Central Saanich; and George S. Thornbury, 1199 Old Esquimalt Road, Esquimalt.

City police called for help today from boys and girls who have lost bicycles within the past three months.

A storage room at the police station has a stack of about 40 bikes, of all sizes—including tricycles—reaching nearly to the ceiling.

There just isn't room for many more and police would like owners to claim their property.

Arena Profits Down 75 Per Cent So Far

A 75 per cent reduction in profits was shown today in a report by Victoria Memorial Arena.

Balance sheets for the first five months of the current fiscal year show net profits to be $1,473 as compared to $6,061 in the same period of 1956. Revenues are down about $3,400 and expenditures are increased about $2,000 for the period.

The city-owned entertainment centre reported one of the smallest profits in its seven-year history last August and for the first time was unable to meet its full commitments to the city—an annual $25,000 return on investment.

The 1956 profit was $26,656, lowest since 1950 when it was $25,880. Highest annual profit was $60,892 in 1954. A sudden drop in profits in 1955 was blamed on television.

A special arena committee of city council was to meet at 4 p.m. today to consider complaints by Ald. Hugh Ramsay directed at manager Joseph Dukowski. They were made at council last week and were concerned with alleged "misinformation" rather than at arena financing.

Burglars Escape With $1,200

4 Stores At Sidney Entered

Hard-working thieves Saturday night or early Sunday broke into four Sidney stores and escaped with $1,200 cash.

The four stores are side-by-side on Sidney's main street.

Cunningham Drug Store lost about $800, the heaviest hit.

ALBERNI SAFE YIELDS $800

Thieves broke in the Alberni Co-operative Store early today, blew up a safe with nitroglycerine and made off with about $800, Victoria detachment, RCMP, said. Alberni RCMP are investigating.

while A. D. Harvey Grocery and Meats suffered a $400 loss.

Sidney Cash and Carry and Bernard Shaw's dress shop, situated between the two establishments robbed, were also entered. Thieves were thwarted in both places due to the heavy safe in the cash and carry store which contained weekend receipts of $2,000, and about $500 hidden in the dress shop.

SAFE UPENDED

Entry was first gained to the drug store by jemmyming the back door. The safe in the rear of the store was up-ended and the bottom chopped off.

Store manager H. A. Dawson said "I assume they used an axe."

Cheques were strewn around the safe but none were reported missing.

W. W. Gardner, cash and carry store manager, said the burglars apparently were satisfied to take a carton of cigarettes. A half-consumed bottle of pop was left in the back of the store where the prowlers took out a window to get in.

"They even put the window back for me," said Mr. Gardner.

CHOPPING FAILED

Dress shop manager Mrs. Muriel Tuttle pointed out where the robbers had tried to cut through cement and plaster from the cash and carry shop to her establishment. They failed, and forced the rear door.

But they tried again to chop through the wall of the shop into the adjacent butcher shop.

Here again they gave up, and came in through the back window.

The dial was punched off the old-fashioned safe in the last premises. Thieves helped themselves to some ice cream and sherbet before leaving.

Both Mr. Harvey and Mr. Gardner had been robbed before, in the first instance "back in the 30s. I don't remember what was taken". Mr. Gardner was burgled six years ago and lost about $1,000.

THIEVES EXPERTS

First of the robberies and break-ins was discovered Sunday, about 9 a.m., when an employee opened the drug store to do some cleaning.

"The thieves knew their business," said Constable G. W. King, RCMP, of the Sidney detachment. "It was obviously a crowbar or crowbars used."

"It is certainly the biggest robbery, and unique of its kind for Sidney," he said. Constable King has been there 18 months.

RCMP officials from Victoria today are assisting in the investigation.

THIS SIGN in the door of Bernard Shaw's dress shop in Sidney is prophetic, as store manager Mrs. Muriel Tuttle realized Sunday. Burglars didn't wait until opening time and ignored the bargains. They missed receipts totalling around $500 hidden in the store, which would have been an added bargain.—(Times photo)

$28,000 Needed For Chest Drive

Morning mail brought $1,038 to Community Chest headquarters at Spencerhouse today.

With three days to go in the chest's "Let's finish the job" week, the campaign total is $209,720. Another $28,000 is needed to keep the 20 member agencies operating in 1958.

"The response over the weekend was very heartwarming," campaign chairman H. L. Alexander said. "People who had been planning to send donations were obviously spurred to action by last week's appeal."

Growers to Discuss Threat Of Dumped Japanese Bulbs

Dumping of Japanese bulbs on the Canadian market—a serious threat to B.C.'s bulb industry—will be discussed by some 70 growers from all parts of the province at the annual two-day convention of the B.C. Bulb Growers' Federation Friday.

The convention will be held at Loughheed's Banquet Club, 1406 Douglas Street.

Growers are concerned with the import of bulbs from Japan which they claim will wreck B.C.'s bulb industry unless some tariff protection is granted to growers in the province.

The $1,500,000 industry has suffered serious setbacks since 1947 due to Japanese imports.

Ted Sabels, manager of the Puget Sound Bulb Exchange, will open the discussion on the "menace of bulb imports from Japan."

Guest speaker will be Dr. Karl Baur of Portland, Ore., a leading U.S. authority on soils and plant nutrition.

Other speakers will include J. H. Crossley, R. M. Adamson, R. H. Turley, all of the dominion experimental farm, Saanichton; Harry Anderson, dominion entomologist; J. Boshier, dominion nematologist; Alan Litter, provincial district horticulturist; and Neville Mayers, division of plant inspection, department of agriculture.

Claude Butler, B.C. distributor of tractors and farm equipment, and R. J. Sharpe, British bulb grower, will also address the convention.

The convention will be chaired by Capt. C. R. Wilson, president.

On Etiquette

Auntie wants to invade small apartment.

My husband and I live in a tiny apartment with only one bedroom. An aunt of mine wants to visit us, and, although I have told her that I cannot put her up, she assures me that she will be glad to sleep on the davenport in the living room. Should she be offended if I reserve a room for her in a nearby motel? We would both welcome her gladly if we could do it that way.

Louise Davis

Louise Davis answers:
You have stated your case to your aunt that you cannot manage to accommodate her conveniently in your little apartment. She apparently is anxious to come anyway, but should not have imposed her will on you to that extent. Such a visit, including sleeping on a davenport, is a lark to her, but apparently it hasn't occurred to her that it would be no lark for you. Sleeping on a davenport in the living room is a pretty make-shift proposition which can be all right in an emergency, but disconcerting for you. Having a guest under foot can be very inconvenient when trying to get household chores done, even in a little apartment. It certainly shouldn't offend your aunt if you reserve a room in a nearby motel. I am sure that all of you would enjoy the visit much more and just as sure that your aunt would admit it. Commuting from motel to your apartment is much less trouble than being crowded 24 hours a day in cramped quarters.

Glass Caddy Saves Many An Embarrassing Spill!

By PENNY SAVER

Is there anything more precarious than serving drinks at a party? I certainly found there wasn't when last weekend I loaded a tray with six glasses and trotted into the living room only to spill four glasses on the floor! Embarrassing? You bet! A nuisance too.

That's why I was quite pepped up when, on my trip to town today, I found the latest in hostess aids. It's a glass caddy, complete with six glasses. Separate racks hold each glass in position. You'd have to turn it upside down to get the glasses out; There are two types. One has the tray of glass holders and the other a tray with glasses on each side of a large tray. Wonderful for television snacks and informal parties at this festive season. Price is $3.25.

It's almost impossible to keep floors from being scratched when you've got "rocking and rolling" teenagers around the house. If they take their shoes off splinters could make things unpleasant and Mother might have to spend her time removing tiny pieces of wood from the guests' feet. All around it's not much fun.

But guess what I have found... a dandy pair of sock slipperettes today that will prevent these dances from developing such drastic situations. If the teenagers will pull these colorful and soft little stretchie slipperettes on before they dance, there will be no splinters and no tears!

Come in all colors of the rainbow in one size that fits any foot at 79 cents a pair.

Perfectionist in Make-Up Grooming, Is Miss Dietrich

I asked Max Factor, adviser to Hollywood stars, to give me a few of his observations concerning beautiful Marlene Dietrich. We all can learn from them, Mr. Factor said:

1. "Marlene is a perfectionist. Regardless of how many times some women are told that beauty and glamour are composed almost entirely of faultless grooming and cleanliness, they never learn. Marlene didn't have to be told. She knew! When this glamorous woman is preparing for a picture she spends three months getting her clothing and make-up ready for two weeks work."

(We can't all do that but most of us could improve our grooming and give more thought to the details of our wardrobes than we do.)

2. "Her coiffures are perfect. Even though Miss Dietrich has excellently textured and beautiful hair herself, she often wears wigs which duplicate her hair exactly so that her motion pictures will be right in every detail. In real life, she has her hair shampooed and set every few days so that she never has that 'almost-ready-for-the-beauty-shop' look which so many women have."

3. "She never steps out of her boudoir until her make-up is flawless. Furthermore, it is applied so perfectly and naturally that few people have ever seen her in the unflattering process of touch-ups. She is so meticulous with her make-up technique and application that it lasts for hours.

4. "Costumes and make-up always agree," says Factor. "If Miss Dietrich steps into the Hollywood salon in slacks in the morning, her make-up is far different from that you will find her wearing at a Hollywood premiere. Likewise when she comes into the salon in the late afternoon, added touches of glamour accompany her dress. She has this knowledge because she has studied her beauty with care."

5. "Every stitch of clothing Marlene wears becomes the costume. There are no mismatches in her wardrobe. Whether she is wearing a 'casual' dress, slacks, or a beautiful evening gown, her hose, shoes, gloves, headpiece and wraps are color co-ordinated. She claims that she had rather have one complete costume in her wardrobe than a dozen which are incomplete. She says that when women say they have nothing to wear it is because they have no clothes which are completely co-ordinated to wear together."

(Even on a moderate budget, a woman can correlate her accessories and costumes.)

British Probe Opens On 'Leakage' Charge

LONDON (Reuters)—An official inquiry opened today into reports of a leakage of secret government financial information which allegedly brought a number of speculators a large stock market profit last September.

A legal tribunal will attempt to find out whether persons outside the government were tipped in advance last Sept. 18 that the government was going to raise its bank rate the next day. The rate went up to 7 per cent from 5.

The afternoon before the rate was raised, from £4,000,000 to £10,000,000 worth of government securities were sold on the British market.

In the Commons, Labor members said "fortunes" were made by speculators with the leaked information.

CANADA NO CHORE BOY, SILENT PARTNER—CROLL

DETROIT (CP)—Canada is no longer content to remain a "silent partner" with the United States or a "chore boy" for Great Britain, Senator David Croll said here Sunday night.

Senator Croll, guest speaker at the centennial banquet of Pisagah Lodge No. 34, B'nai B'rith, said: "Canada does not mind being a junior partner, but does not want to be ignored. I think we made that quite clear during the Suez crisis when we went our own way. The Communists refer to Canada as a satellite of the United States, but we have no fear of being dominated."

Europe in Grips of Winter

LONDON (UP)—Freezing temperatures, fog and snow sent Europeans scurrying to keep warm today as the first real taste of winter hit the continent.

Fleming Warns U.S. On Tariff Policies

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (BUP)—Canadian Finance Minister Donald Fleming today called on the United States government to take serious account of the heavy imbalance of trade between the two countries.

"We should like to see the United States administration and Congress take serious account of the heavy imbalance of the trade between these two countries and also of the way in which United States tariff policies are excluding Canadian finished products from the U.S. market," Fleming said.

In an address—which he intimated as being of "utmost frankness"—to the annual meeting of the Investment Bankers Association of America, Fleming argued that the United States should modify policies which impede Canadian sales.

"Canada's purchases from the U.S. in a considerable measure comprise finished manufactured goods," he said.

"The nature of the U.S. tariff, however, not unlike others, is such as to discourage the importation of finished products."

"We are not content merely to dig these materials out of our soil for export to other countries to be prefabricated there into finished products, many of which we are then invited to buy back."

Fleming also spoke of long-standing weaknesses in Canada's trading position resulting in this "chronic condition" of imbalance.

Fleming said more than 60 per cent of Canada's exports

FOOTBALL MYSTERY

Man Who Tripped Ti-Cat Unidentified

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Rugby Union can't positively identify the man who tripped Hamilton Tiger-Cats' Bibbles Bawel in Saturday's Grey Cup final won by Hamilton over Winnipeg, 32-7, and "no action can be taken," CRU president Don Downey said in an interview today.

"It was a very unfortunate incident and the CRU is perturbed about it, but there is nothing we can do about it, now," he added.

"We can't lay charges. Sure some people have told us he is so-and-so, but we can't positively identify the man."

The incident occurred in the fourth quarter as Bawel was touchdown bound after intercepting a Winnipeg Blue Bombers pass. The spectator was standing at the sidelines and stuck out a foot as Bawel

DIEFENBAKER HINTS INCOME TAX CHANGES

Changes Overdue In Youth Problem

Immediate establishment of a unified Greater Victoria family and juvenile court was called for today by a special local committee investigating the juvenile delinquency problem.

The recommendation was one of a number made after a 10-month study by the juvenile delinquency committee of the Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council.

The report, submitted to the Council, said the court should be modelled after the successful Vancouver juvenile court.

The committee found that "wasteful duplication and confusion" arises from the present court system here under separate administrations and varying policies.

It urged that an over-all authority be set up, and noted that since Greater Vancouver Family and Juvenile Court was created the per capita rate of commitments to industrial schools from the Vancouver area has been only 50 per cent of that from the Victoria area.

The committee found no evidence that this district is experiencing a juvenile crime wave "of alarming or unprecedented proportions."

"It has, however, seen and heard enough to bring conviction that there is considerable delinquency among young people, especially in the 13 to 18 age group, quite sufficient to form a sound basis for serious concern on the part of every parent and citizen."

Trained Personnel Needed

"There seems little doubt," the report said, "that many changes in the various methods of dealing with the problems of young people are long overdue."

The committee stressed the need for more and better trained personnel to deal with delinquents.

"It is unlikely that any great change for the better can be expected until the community in general recognizes the urgent need for improved and more adequate help in these fields, and expresses that recognition in terms of greatly improved wages and salaries for those who work there."

The committee recommended that the work of juvenile officers and probation officers be split.

No individual should be expected to do both jobs because they are basically incompatible, the report said.

Expansion of the probation service would make a valuable contribution in terms of prevention.

The committee said anti-social behavior tendencies or attitudes by individuals or groups of juveniles should be investigated by probation officers, who would seek effective corrective measures.

Members were particularly concerned with "the very objectionable behavior" of groups of juveniles who congregate in the downtown district of Victoria.

They said more police officers are needed to control the situation, and added there has been a "regrettable lack of public understanding or co-operation" on the problem.

Rocket Down? Russians Mum

(From Times News Services)

LONDON—The Soviet communiqué on the Sputniks made no mention tonight of the carrier rocket for the first time since the first satellite was launched Oct. 4. Failure to mention the rocket lent new currency to reports from western scientists that the rocket already had come down.

The mystery of the sputtering Sputnik rocket was deepened earlier today when a Moscow planetarium official insisted the rocket still was aloft and orbiting the earth.

His statement came after numerous western scientific sources had written off the rocket. Reports of flaming space objects had come from points as far distant as California and Germany.

Dr. A. C. B. Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio-telescope, said Sunday night it "would be stretching all known theories to the breaking point" to think the rocket was still aloft.

SASKATCHEWAN SIGHTING
A "ball of fire" reported seen over southern Saskatchewan brought reports that the rocket had fallen there. Director John Hodges of the Regina Astronomical Society said the object had the characteristics of a meteor, but he did not rule out the possibility that it was the rocket or a fragment of it.

In Montana, some persons reported a terrific explosion and a green ball of fire and a white flash so bright it blinded motorists momentarily in the northern and eastern sections of the state.

The U.S. Army reported from Fairbanks, Alaska, that a brightly-glowing object plunged to earth Saturday on the Fort Greely Reservation 100 miles southeast of there.

Near Hamburg, West Germany, farmers said a glowing

No Budget Planned Commons Informed

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today the government plans to present no formal budget this session. He made the statement in the Commons after listing, among further legislation planned for the session, "one or two" tax measures.

Later, he hinted that one of the changes may involve the income tax. He said:

"Insofar as income taxes are concerned, those changes could be made by motion."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that because few changes will be made—apparently referring to tax changes—and because this is the second session this year, with limited time available, "we feel that a formal budget is not necessary at the present time."

LISTS MEASURES

His mention of planned tax changes came as he listed, at the request of Opposition Leader St. Laurent, the new measures the government hopes to introduce this session.

Included in his statement was a reference to the Commons closure rule on debate, which Mr. Diefenbaker said he intends to change "at the very earliest opportunity."

Removal of the closure rule was one of his election promises. The Progressive Conservatives said the rule was misused during last year's angry pipeline debate.

Some of the other measures announced have been indicated in advance. But Mr. Diefenbaker also indicated the federal government may be close to agreement with Saskatchewan on sharing of costs in the long-talked-of South Saskatchewan River power-irrigation project.

He said legislation for the project will be introduced this session if there is agreement with the Saskatchewan government.

If there is time, he said, there will be an amendment to the Citizenship Act removing a "discrimination" between natural-born and naturalized Canadian citizens involving loss of citizenship.

CIVIC ELECTIONS

Eight Candidates Gain Acclamation

Eight candidates for civic office were elected by acclamation in three Greater Victoria Municipalities today, as nominations closed.

Reeve F. E. Norris was re-elected in Oak Bay for a third two-year term. School trustee W. C. Gelling was re-elected to a second school board term.

Rural Saanich school trustee Frederick Philip Jeune, was elected uncontested to a further two-year term.

In Central Saanich, there will be no election. All candidates, four for council and one for school board, were elected by acclamation.

There were three last-day entries in the election race—John H. Ford and Gordon T. Schenck both came out for the one-year school board vacancy in Oak Bay, and naturopath Ronald Grant, a former Saanich councillor, filed papers for another try at that office.

Nominations closed at noon in Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Central Saanich and Saanich. They are still acceptable in Victoria until 2 p.m. Thursday.

A contest for council in Victoria was assured Saturday with the announcement of a fifth candidate for four council seats. No one has come forward to run against Mayor Percy Scurrell and his election Thursday by acclamation appears assured.

NEWCOMER
The new council candidate is Mrs. W. W. Sally Rogers, 42 South Turner Street, sponsored by Victoria Ratepayers' Association. A Victoria resident since 1942 she was defeated in an attempt for council nine years ago.

Here is the Greater Victoria election picture at this time:

SOMMERS CASE PROSECUTOR TO SEE BONNER

VANCOUVER (CP)—City Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said today he still intends seeing Attorney-General Robert Bonner about the Sommers bribery conspiracy case.

The attorney-general last week said he could see no reason why Mr. McMorran would have to confer with him on the case, "and he'll know when I see him."

Asked when he would see attorney-general, Mr. McMorran replied: "When I intend to see him is nobody's business but mine and his."

Eisenhower Back at Desk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower visited his office today for the first time since his cerebral attack a week ago. He presided at the opening of an afternoon cabinet meeting.

Immediately after a motor trip from his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., where he spent the weekend, the recuperating president went to his office, dictated a memorandum to his secretary, Ann Whitman, and made known his intention to sit in on the cabinet session.

Press Secretary James Hagerty, who earlier told reporters that White House physician Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder reported Eisenhower's progress "continues to be excellent," said the president did not intend to stay through the full meeting.

After dictating the memorandum, Hagerty said, Eisenhower went to the White House living quarters for lunch and a short nap.

Hagerty did not disclose the agenda of the cabinet meeting but Vice-President Richard Nixon—who had been prepared to substitute as chairman—told reporters Friday the administration's agriculture and welfare budgets and legislative programs would be discussed.

"However, it should be clear to everyone, that more adequate policing is not the final answer. Some effort must be made to get at the underlying cause of such behaviour, and then to plan and carry out the program necessary to eradicate or at least reduce it."

The report also supported recent criticism of facilities at the Cold Harbour Road Juvenile Home.

It recommended that accommodation be extended to allow better security measures and some degree of segregation. "Security measures, necessary in the cases of some of the more hardened and desperate cases, are totally inadequate."

"It is the opinion of the committee that these conditions place an unfair burden of responsibility on the present superintendent and his wife."

YOUNG OFFENDERS

In many cases, magistrates now are forced to place young offenders in the city jail or send them home on remands because of the lack of accommodation at the home.

Other recommendations of the committee:

1. Appointment by provincial or municipal authorities of an independent commission or agency with full authority to carry on a continuing study juvenile delinquency.

2. Provision of a full-time trained counsellor service in elementary schools to assist with home problems.

3. More funds be made available for the foster home program.

4. Establishment of an expanded program of correction on a provincial scale which would form a graduated method of treatment to deal with the varying types of young people who are committed by the courts.

5. Use of a standard method of keeping police, court and school records on their handling of juvenile delinquency cases.

6. Investigation of a program of "good family" courses for young married couples.

7. Closer liaison between school authorities and other authorities such as courts, juvenile and probation officers who deal with juvenile delinquents.

8. Education authorities should undertake a study of ways of providing a program to better serve the interests of students who do not profit by the present secondary school curriculum, but who are not mature enough to enter the adult labor field.

9. Revision of the Public School Act to strengthen the hands of principals, inspectors and school boards in discharging incorrigibly objectionable students from school in order to safeguard the interests of other students.

The committee found that there is no shortage of recreational facilities.

"Schools, churches, athletic organizations, service clubs and youth groups such as Scouts, Cadets and a host of others make it possible for any healthy boy or girl to participate in worthwhile recreational activities to his or her heart's content.

"Unfortunately a very large number who could and should be in such activities apparently do not choose to grasp these opportunities."

The report said there is no ready answer to the problem of how to draw juvenile delinquents into these activities.

Conclusions and recommendations of the committee were reached after a study of records from police and courts, schools and vital statistics.

The committee also drew up a set of questions on the juvenile delinquency problem and submitted them to persons trained and experienced in this field.

440 CASES

The committee found that during 1956 there were some 440 cases brought into juvenile courts in the four Greater Victoria municipalities.

Almost 74 per cent of these offences were tried in Victoria, but less than half of those tried in Victoria actually lived in the city.

Of those tried, 11 per cent had from one to three previous convictions. Traffic offences accounted for by far the largest number.

Majority of all offences were committed by boys in the 14-17 age group, with 70 per cent of these in the 16-17-year bracket.

The committee found that most records were incomplete. "Therefore, while the statistics are of some interest and have a certain significance, they should not be used for the basis of any definite conclusions."

"OVER PROTECTION"

The report said an examination should be made of the possible "over-protection" of juvenile delinquents in the courts under present legislation.

Protection of identity of offenders "can and sometimes does result in large numbers of other young people being exposed to the harmful effects of prolonged association with highly undesirable juvenile offenders."

object crashed with a roar into a field. They said it dredged a hole in the ground and pieces of metal that looked like aluminum were found near the spot.

In Capetown, South Africa, witnesses reported an explosion in the sky followed by "a fall of glowing fragments." They said a thick streak of black smoke, several miles long, was sighted over the city after the explosion.

VANCOUVER—Several reports of a fireball travelling north to south over British Columbia were received at the Sea Island air force base here Sunday.

The identical reports came from members of the ground observer corps in Alaska and at mile 1,127 on the Alaska Highway.

Hurricane Nina Batters Hawaii Routing 1,100

HONOLULU (AP)—Some 1,100 persons were evacuated from the low-lying coastal areas of Kauai today as gale winds of up to 90 miles an hour from Hurricane Nina battered that northernmost of the Hawaiian Islands.

Those evacuated, mostly fishermen and cane field workers living near mouths of swollen rivers, were moved to public schools.

Rivers flooded the towns of Hanapepe and Hanalei but there was only slight damage and no casualties were reported. Heavy rains and strong winds continued to batter the island, 85 miles northwest of Oahu, the site of Honolulu.

Two small rivers near Hanalei—the Waiea that took the brunt of a tidal wave last spring—blocked roads as they overflowed. Phone service to the island capital of Lihue was disrupted shortly after midnight.

REOPEN HARBOR

Honolulu harbor was reopened at 5 p.m. Sunday after being closed all day.

Airlines resumed regular flights to the continental United States. Inter-island aircraft that had been grounded resumed flights with added schedules to take care of stranded passengers.

The major hotels were in no danger and surf board riders were out throughout Sunday for some of the best rides of the year.

Nina is the 14th Pacific storm this year. It is called a hurricane, while those that strike west of the international dateline are labelled typhoons because of the Asian derivation of the word for such a storm. They are named for women.

Weather bureaus at San Francisco and Honolulu both said they have no records of a hurricane hitting the Hawaiian Islands in the past.

DELINQUENT FIGURE SOARS

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian courts last year found 8,238 children under 15 delinquent, compared to 6,542 the year previous, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The number of children charged with delinquency and brought before the courts rose to 9,334 from 7,582.

HAREM-SCAREM CAREER PROPOSED TO ELEANOR

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An Arab sheik with 39 wives would like to marry Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, according to her son, James.

Roosevelt told of the sheik's marriage proposal while speaking Sunday at a state of Israel bond rally.

A sheik formally requested to see him to make the offer, he said, while he was touring the Mid-East six weeks ago.

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials, "I would agree to see him if the state of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

of all Dutch-language publications.

The move came as the government clamped a tight censorship on news of the attempted assassination Saturday night of President Sukarno.

TEN KILLED

Ten persons were killed and 137 kept in hospital for treatment of shrapnel wounds after assassins hurled hand grenades into a crowd around the president, a government announcement said Sunday.

Seven persons, including two small children, were killed outright. Sukarno was saved by his bodyguards, who threw him to the ground and covered him with their bodies.

Travellers from Indonesia reported strong army guards have been posted around government buildings and the radio station in Jakarta in case the attempted assassination was the beginning of a rebellion.

There was speculation in Singapore that the attack might have been made by the fanatic Darul Islam movement, which has fought the government since Indonesia won its independence from the Dutch in 1949.

DUTCH ISOLATED

Meanwhile, many Dutch residences in Jakarta, including the Netherlands diplomatic mission, had their gas and water supplies shut off as part of the anti-Dutch campaign.

Dutch employees of the KPM shipping line tried to drive their own cars to work this morning but were prevented by their Indonesian co-workers.

The anti-Dutch steps carried out the warning by Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio following the refusal of the United Nations last week to recommend negotiations over Indonesia's claim to West New Guinea, the only remaining Dutch colony in Asia.

2 Elected Trustees in First Sooke Vote

JOHN S. WILLIAMS

LANGFORD — Two trustees were returned to Sooke School Board Saturday in the first school election held in district for voters in Langford, Colwood, Glen Lake, and Metcho-sin.

Trustee Aubrey Hull of Langford led the poll with 388 votes, and board chairman John S. Williams was second with 376 votes.

Defeated candidates were Howard Sewell, 214 votes; James C. Polson, 199, and Fredrick H. Boulter, 58.

Of the estimated 2,500 voters in the area, only 662 cast ballots.

The open election was held this year in the populated area of the district to replace the new system of choosing representatives in school attendance areas, who in turn choose trustees from among their own number.

This system will continue to be observed in the remainder of the large district, that includes Sooke, Saseenos, Otter Point, Jordan River and Port Renfrew.

The following representatives have been chosen at recent area meetings: Violet A. Davidson, Port Renfrew; Mrs. Myrtle Ped-nault, Shirley, replacing Trust-tee J. T. Hunter of Jordan River, and W. D. Nichol, East Sooke.

Naval Officers To New Posts

OTTAWA (CP)—Naval headquarters announced today new appointments for six naval officers to take effect early next year.

Capt. William M. Landy, more 41, of Brantford, Ont., and Ottawa, has been appointed in command of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure effective Jan. 17.

He succeeds Capt. Harold V. W. Groos, 45, of Victoria and Halifax, who has commanded the ship since she was commissioned. Capt. Groos, who will hold the acting rank of commodore, will become commander of the RCN barracks and commanding officer of the Na-den shore base at Esquimalt, B.C.

the Pacific Coast city to become chief of staff to the flag officer, Atlantic coast, March 3.

Capt. Howard L. Quinn, 47, of Vancouver and Halifax, chief of staff since November 1955, will become commanding officer of the destroyer escort St. Laurent. He also will serve as captain of the 3rd Canadian Escort Squadron.

He succeeds Capt. Angus G. Boulton, 46, of Winnipeg and Halifax, who will become assistant chief of the naval staff and a member of the naval board. He will hold the acting rank of commodore while holding the appointment.

Commodore Duncan L. Raymond, 53, of Ottawa, whom he succeeds, has been appointed in command of the Stadacona and as commodore of the naval barracks at Halifax.

Malnutrition, Cold Faced by 10,000

Winter holds Korea in an icy grip today.

And today 10,000 Korean orphans are shuddering against the cold as they beg for food on the snow-swept streets of Seoul.

Many already have tuberculosis. For the others, it is just a matter of time.

They have two strikes against them now — malnutrition and cold.

But with Victorians pitching, they could get to first base. This is how we can help. We can buy bricks—one for 10c, 100 for $10—to build a TB out-patients' pavilion right in the middle of the city's most terrible slum.

Children's Tuberculosis Hospital will provide beds for 40 TB victims.

It will give help, by home visiting teams, to thousands of other tubercular children and adults.

It may save the life of some child who today has nowhere to turn but to the streets.

The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund has mounted to $1,830.

New deep-sculptured styling... new engineering advances

Proved and approved around the world!

The '58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its introduction.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan... a car so rugged it proved its mettle around the entire world! Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine took the mighty Himalayas and the rugged Rockies without a puff. And after thousands of unbelievably tough miles the '58 Ford proved itself to be the solidest, smoothest, travelingest new car ever! With Ford's new softer-acting springs, bumps lose their bounce, and for the ultimate in riding comfort Ford offers revolutionary new, optional Ford-Aire suspension. Get the full value and performance story from your Ford-Edsel dealer.

Fairlane 500 Club Victoria, one of 19 glamorous models in 4 great series

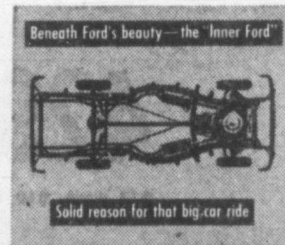

The features of the future are yours today in FORD for '58

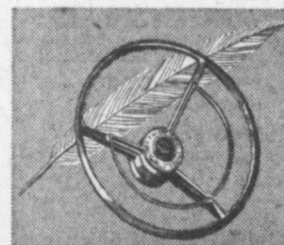

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8's and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 303 HP. Smoother power! From less gas! Precision Fuel Induction... a new carburetor, fuel feeding, and combustion system which routes the fuel-air mixture directly from carburetor to new machined combustion chambers, so each cylinder operates at peak efficiency. It's the greatest advance in years!

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8's. Here is the newest, most versatile of all automatic drives. In D1 position, you get smooth, solid-feel, full-power take-offs starting in low gear. In D2 position, you get gentle, sure-footed starts in intermediate gear—particularly good on ice, snow or sand. The new axle ratio used with Cruise-O-Matic means "built-in" overdrive economy.

You'll ride in safety, surrounded by new strength—proved and approved around the world! Every Ford is built around the rugged "Inner Ford" that puts "beef" beneath its beauty... extra strength everywhere! The husky contoured frame is bowed out to give you wall-to-wall protection. The entire body is welded, braced and bonded to form one incredibly tough unit. No wonder Fords keep looking and acting young for years.

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! And this is just one of the many new "Inner Ford" advances you'll discover in the smoothest riding... easiest handling... most thoroughly tested Ford ever. Come, see for yourself!
